Waveland's annexation bid beats Bay

Waveland files plan to annex Hwy. 603 area

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER

While Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre was busy with goodwill tours of neighborhoods slated for a proposed annexation plan by the city, Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo and the Board of Aldermen were busy preparing their own little plan, which they filed in Chancery Court Wednesday afternoon.

The petition for a proposed annexation of an area which encompasses an area along Hwy. 90 and extends down the west side of Hwy. 603 just past I-10, along with adjoining neighborhoods, was filed at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

The Bay St. Louis Police Department is investigating vandalism on the Jimmy Rutherford Memorial Pier, much of which happened late Wednesday evening, according to Police Chief Frank McNeil.

The vandalism was discovered by city employees on Thursday morning.

Vandalism, which is officials say is an on-going problem at the pier, will cost the city more $5,000 in this latest case, Bay St. Louis Public Works Director Ron Vanney said Thursday.

McNeil and Vanney urge anyone seeing possible suspicious activities on the pier to call the police department at 467-9221, day or night.

Bay man indicted in baby's murder

Boswell, 19, could face either death penalty or life with no chance of parole

BY GEOFF BELCHER

A Hancock County grand jury last week indicted a Bay St. Louis man for capital murder in the March beating death of a 10-month-old girl.

James Michael Boswell, 19, could face the death penalty for the incident, which occurred in a rented apartment directly across from Second Street Elementary School, according to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil.

Officers Israel Neff and Christine Johnson responded to a medical emergency at the 208 Carroll St. apartment at around 1:21 a.m. on March 6. McNeil said in a statement released at the time, "and observed that the child had bruising on the facial area -- a bloody nose and mouth. Fire Rescue

Locked up ... for good

Debbie Neader, right, takes a "mug shot" of Jack Breyer of Pass Christian. Breyer was locked up as part of a fundraiser for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. "I had fun participating in the lock-up," Breyer said. "I had some folks who enjoyed it more than me. I'm still looking for the person who referred me." Neader, the director for the Biloxi District over South Mississippi, said the lock up raised $4,600 on Thursday. Last year, Bay St. Louis raised $25,000. The money raised will be used for children and adults with muscular dystrophy. Neader said the organization hosts lock-ups twice a month at different locations along the Coast. Usually, a lock-up is held once a year at each location. Local business people were recruited to raise $1,000 for "bail." Volunteers from the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program helped out while Sycamore House provided the location for the jail and provided refreshments for the "jail birds."

Hancock County's Ashley Flynt goes to Meridian to compete for Mississippi's Junior Miss 2004

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Ashley Flynt is on her way to Meridian to compete with thirty-eight young women for Mississippi's Junior Miss and a share of more than $800,000 in college-granted scholarships. Mississippi's Junior Miss scholarship program will be held July 31 - August 2 at the Hamasa Temple Theater in Meridian.

Ashley is the 16 year old daughter of Catherine and Joe Flynt of Diamondhead and a senior at St. John High School.

She is a honor roll student and has participated in the Rotary Leadership Conference, Senate Secretary for Youth Legislature, and is secretary of the St. John Student Body and on the Search Retreat.

The week long stay in Meridian will include judging, rehearsals, interviews, parties, staying with host families and an opportunity to know the thirty-eight other Junior Misses from all over Mississippi. The categories in which each contestant is evaluated are scholastics (20%), interview (25%), talent (25%), fitness (15%), and poise (15%). The program's goal is to honor young women who excel in all these areas and to encourage them to continue on the path of excellence by completing their college education and assuming roles of leadership in their communities and professions, thereby offering an example for other young women to follow. Past participants include ABC's Diane Sawyer, Deborah Norville of Inside Edition, and Debra Messing of NBC's Will & Grace.

Ashley will compete in Poise and Fitness on Thursday night, and Interview and Talent (a lyrical dance, "I Can only Imagine") on Friday. The finals will take place Saturday evening August 2nd at the Hamasa Temple Theater in Meridian where one of the young ladies will have the 2004 Mississippi's Junior Miss Medallion placed around her neck and the opportunity to represent Mississippi in America's Jr. Miss in Mobile, AL in 2004. For ticket information, contact (601) 693-5353.

Hancock County Greenways Project public reception to be held Monday

THE SEA COAST ECHO

An update on the Hancock County Greenways Project will be presented on Monday, July 28 beginning at 5:30 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. at the Centre for Creation, located on Washington Street at Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis.

"Our update this quarter focuses on work being done by The Land Trust for the Mississippi Coastal Plain and The Nature Conservancy," said committee Chairman Ron Magee. Both organizations will collaborate to present information on Landowner Options for Growing Green Spaces.

"Ultimately, the presentation that is made on Monday evening will become one of the chapters of the Hancock County Greenways plan. We will be looking to form partnerships to make a greenways plan work in Hancock County," said Magee.

The public is invited to the reception to learn more about the Hancock County Greenways Project, but also to team more about options that are available in Mississippi to individual private landowners that are interested in conserving their property.

"Many options exist for landowners that are seeking to conserve their land. Our presentation will define what some of those options are," said Judy Steckler, Executive Director of the Land Trust for the Mississippi Coastal Plain. "People have different reasons for wanting to conserve their property; therefore, The Nature Conservancy and the Land Trust want to present the different options that are available for people to consider."

The Hancock County Greenways Project is a cooperative effort between the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. The project is funded through a Coastal Impact Assistance Grant made available through the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality. For more information, please contact Sue Chamberlain at (228) 493-1147.

Cuevas' Quotes

Bay's John Wilkerson named American Legion MS Dept. Commander

Congratulations are in order for John Wilkerson of Bay St. Louis who was elected Mississippi's Department Commander of the American Legion.

Wilkerson was elected and installed as State Commander at the American Legion's State Convention held last week at the Ramada Inn in Diamondhead.

Wilkerson is a longtime member of Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post 139 of Bay St. Louis and has been very active on a local and state level, in addition to several National Committees of the American Legion.

He has helped just about every position at the Bay Post including three years as Post Commander.

Knowing Commander Wilkerson for many years, as I have and seeing his work in the American Legion, I feel he really deserves to be State Commander and will do everything in his power to make Mississippians be proud of the American Legion.

The American Legion is very important in our local community, state and nation.

All qualified Veterans really need to be members of the American Legion too.

In Hancock County there are three American Legion Posts, so if you are a qualified to be a Legionnaire, you need to become a member.

Just about every day, or week there are some type of scams taking place in our country.

Among the latest in our county is the passing of fake $5, $10 and $20 bills in addition to someone passing not an employee of Coast Electric attempting to cash counterfeit payroll checks.

If any business or individual feels that someone is using some scam of any type, it is wise for them to call their respective law enforcement agency.

The Hancock County Sheriff's office can be reached at 467-5101; Bay St. Louis Police Department, 467-9221; and Waveland Police Department, 467-3669.

Please do not forget the Hancock County Hurricane Fair scheduled for Thursday, July 31 at the Hancock County Civic Center, Longfellow Road, 4 to 7 p.m.

This is a great opportunity to learn preparations necessary in case there is a threat of a hurricane.

There will be some 30 display booths with helpful information. By the way, admission is free.

A strong defense: America's Cutting Edge

Defense is perhaps our federal government's most important duty. Without a defense, our constitution and the God-given freedom that it so eloquently articulates are doomed in a world where evil, aggressive dictatorships remain far too numerous. The future of America's defense lies in large part to our technological edge. In fact, it may surprise you to what extent that sharp cutting edge is being honed by Mississippi workers, as evidenced by the 2004 Defense Appropriations Bill now working its way through Congress.

Contained in this year's defense bill is more than $3 billion to fund the development of our Navy's next generation of surface combat ships - the first being the DD(X) destroyer. Looking like the equivalent of a stealth bomber on water, the DD(X) is the firstborn of an entire family of highly advanced, next-generation vessels being developed in Pascagoula at Northrop Grumman Ingalls Ship Systems. DD(X) and its successors will provide our Navy with a cost-effective, yet highly dominant, weapons platform that can project precision power at sea and ashore in ways never before imaginable. It will protect our sailors and prevent America's enemies from mounting any significant offense against our ships at sea.

As we saw in Afghanistan and in Iraq, much of America's future defense structure will include unmanned aerial aircraft which can fly long ranges and save the valuable lives of our pilots and other personnel. These high-tech weapons also have a Mississippi connection. Included in this year's defense bill is funding for technologies like the Fire Scout Vertical Takeoff unmanned vehicle. Plans are to assemble eight of these aircraft in Jackson County. Also funded is more than $20 million for the Littoral Surveillance System's Facility at Naval Station Pascagoula. This technology can help guard our coasts and ports, better protecting America from terrorist threats.

by U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

Mississippians are also helping to construct the next generation of conventional aircraft. Included in the defense bill is almost $3 billion to construct new F/A-18E/F aircraft. Employees at Jackson's Eaton Aerospace are building the main engine-driven fuel pumps for this plane. Additionally the bill includes almost $4 billion to procure the F/22 Raptor - an aircraft that will ensure America's air superiority well into this century.

Lockheed-Martin's Meridian plant is building the vertical stabilizers for the F/22, as well as portions of the venerable C-130 aircraft. This is a workhorse plane that has served our military for decades as a transport, and more recently as a formidable terrorist-fighting gunship in Afghanistan.

The bill includes funding to upgrade the avionics systems on F/A aircraft. This equipment is manufactured at Raytheon Corporation's Forest, Mississippi, facility along with other state of the art radar and weapons systems.

Mississippi's universities and research facilities also are in the forefront of America's defense. Mississippi State University, Jackson State University, the University of Southern Mississippi and Ole Miss are all carrying out vital defense related research projects funded by this bill.

This includes projects to produce better composite materials, funds to build better sensors to support homeland security missions, acoustic surveillance systems which can better detect sounds, and even funds to conduct research into the causes of lung cancer and other initiatives which have applications far beyond the defense arena.

I am proud that Mississippians are helping to shape the cutting edge of America's defense technology. Defense is important to our state's economy, but it's even more important to our nation's survival. Our freedom could one day rest on these technologies and the dedicated men and women who are designing, building and operating these systems today - men and women who are your neighbors, right here in Mississippi.

*****

A few years ago I resolved to spend much of my time focused on Mississippi's economic development. Each week my staff and I spend many hours looking for ways to bring Mississippians more jobs. With Mississippi losing old, lower paying jobs we can hardly afford to stop competing for new, good paying jobs. This is why I have especially sought jobs coming from the rapidly emerging automotive industry taking shape primarily here in the Southeastern United States.

As I write this column, auto companies continue eyeing expansion in our state and our neighboring states. We must remain ready to aggressively engage them at the appropriate time. Mississippi beat our surrounding states in the competition for the very coveted Nissan plant, but in the wake of Nissan, we lost two more plants to competing states: Hyundai to Alabama, Toyota to Texas. Though we are 1-2, the series is far from over.

The odds still look good for Mississippi. Trends in the automotive industry are favoring a handful of Mid-South states, with Mississippi being right in the center. The auto industry is now global, devoid of national boundaries with a handful of international companies at the helm. While GM and Ford remain the world's big two, they are generally taking jobs overseas, and eliminating domestic jobs. Meanwhile, companies like Nissan, Honda, DaimlerChrysler, Hyundai, Toyota and others are rapidly expanding their market share and job base right here in America, particularly in the Southern states.

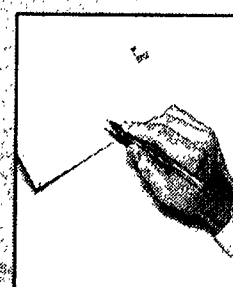

I've met with some of their leaders, and I've come to know a number of them personally. Yes, these com-

Lott -- strong defense/new jobs

panies come South because of big tax incentives. However, perhaps the biggest and most often overlooked reason they come here is because America is now their largest, most profitable, most influential and, therefore, most important market - a fact that will not change anytime soon. The company names may be Korean, Japanese or German, but Americans are now designing, engineering and building these companies' products right here in America, to serve this market. With billions already invested in Alabama, Tennessee, Texas and Kentucky, their presence here - particularly in the South - is only going to grow in the near future.

They are coming for the long-term.

Some are saying our state will go broke competing for these large automotive plants, but what is the alternative? Those who contend we spent too much on tax incentive packages for Nissan and that we cannot afford to win another auto plant seem oblivious to the auto industry's trends, and the advantages that rural, right-to-work states like Mississippi have in this arena.

More alarmingly, the critics are too far removed from out-of-work Mississippians. Everywhere I go around this state folks want to talk about jobs. They want to know what kind of future our state's private and public leaders are sculpting for Mississippi today. They want to know if their children will have a chance to raise a family in Mississippi or will they be forced to move elsewhere?

Most Mississippians would rather their tax money be invested in jobs over dead-end social programs. They don't care about political jockeying among state, local and federal officials either, or about turf battles along county, city or regional jurisdictional lines.

In some cases, Mississippi may do well to partner with a neighboring state in competing for major economic development projects, such as we have agreed to do with Alabama. Yet, at the same time we must always keep a competitive eye. Delco, International Paper, Fruit of the Loom, Burlington Industries are companies that have left communities in Mississippi, putting a lot of folks out of work. We owe it to ourselves and to future Mississippians to build a new economy with new business partners. There are more automotive jobs coming South. Let's make sure they come to Mississippi.

Taylor announces funds for Hancock

THE SEA COAST ECHO

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor announced last week that the Pearlington Water and Sewer District in Hancock County has been awarded a $48,100 loan and a $138,500 grant from the USDA Rural Development Project. These funds will be used to construct a vacuum sewer collection system. This system will provide the Pearlington area with a public sewage collection system and remove a health hazard for 120 residents.

"These funds mean a lot for Pearlington and Hancock County, alike. We must update these utilities in our communities if we are to continue to grow while creating safer living standards for current residents," said Taylor.

The contact for the Pearlington Water and Sewer District is Ronnie Cuevas at 228-533-7732.

Be prepared for hurricanes

SPECIAL TO THE ECHO
courtesy of FEMA for Kids, American Red
Cross and Hancock
County Emergency
Management Agency

Hancock County Emergency Management Agency Civil Defense is hosting the 3 d Annual Hurricane Fair so kids and their families can be prepared for Hurricanes. Admission is free and there will be lots of cool exhibits, such as the Bay St. Louis Fire House the Waveland Fire Safety Trailer, Smokey the Bear and the Crash test Dummies.

The fair will be held on July 31st from 4-7 p.m. at the Hancock County Civic Center.

Have you thought about how you and your family would prepare for a Hurricane, a fire or any other type of disaster, like a tornado? Help your family make a Family Disaster Plan. Talk to your family about:

- What types of disasters happen in Hancock County
- What should you do to prepare for the disasters
- What would you do if you were asked to evacuate

- If there was a fire, where would your family meet (at the mailbox, at a friends house, at the corner of the street)
- If you must evacuate your neighborhood, where would you meet (at a friend's house, at a relative's house)

- Where would you call to "check in" if you become separated from your family during a disaster. Can you memorize the phone number of a favorite relative in another state. Each person in your family could call this person so that you and your family could be reunited.

Are you prepared in case you have to leave your house during a disaster. Pack an Activity Survival Kit to keep you busy while you're away from your home. Pack everything in a backpack or duffle bag that is easy for you to carry. You may want to use your school backpack since school is almost out! You might want to pack:

- A favorite book, or many books if you like to read
- Crayons, pencils, markers and paper
- Scissors and glue
- Several favorite toys such as a doll or action figures
- A board game
- A deck of cards
- A puzzle with lots of pieces to keep you busy for a long time
- Bring action toys, such as people figures and vehicles so you can play out what is happening during the disaster
- Bring your favorite stuffed animal
- Bring pictures of your family and your pets

- Make a "keep safe" box with your special treasures

Other kids may not have had the chance to pack an Activity Survival Kit, so be prepared to share with them.

Now that your kit is ready to go, help you family prepare a Family Disaster Supplies Kit. The kit will help your family be prepared for an emergency. You can make the kit up before the disaster, and keep the kit stored in a big duffle bag or a plastic container. Think about what you need to place in your kit to keep you family comfortable, and plan for three days.

- Water
- Nonperishable foods
- Medicine and supplies for First Aid Kit
- Tools, such as radios, flashlights, can opener, utility knife and batteries
- Blankets
- Towels
- Pillows
- Toothbrush and toothpaste

Visit the Hancock County Hurricane Fair on July 31st and learn more about being prepared for this Hurricane Season. Pick up a copy of The Disaster Twins and Herman and The Hunt for a Disaster-Proof Shell at the Hancock County Emergency Management Agency. ## USM gets $1.5M grant for NASA geospatial program

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The University of Southern Mississippi (USM) learned July 1 that it was the recipient of a $1.5 million grant from the Department of Labor to fund a pilot Geospatial Technology Apprenticeship Program (GTAP).

"Our role from the beginning has been to develop the process that highlights the skills needed in the geospatial workforce," said Dr. David Powe, director of NASA's Earth Sciences Applications (ESA) Directorate at Stennis Space Center (SSC). "We long ago began work to set up a competency model that surveyed geospatial companies in the U.S., gained understanding of the skills they needed, then matched the skills to the education standards, which identified the gaps between education and the workforce."

"We developed this model and are handing it off to the Department of Labor. That's where USM comes in."

Dr. Cyndi Gaudet is USM associate professor of workforce training and development and director of the Geospatial Workforce Development Center (GeoWDC).

"The GTAP is a partnership among employers, education and economic development," Gaudet said, "to involve on-the-job training at organizations that have geospatial workforces."

The first task of Gaudet and the GeoWDC will be to hold workshops with geospatial experts and to establish standards for the apprenticeship that will work for the industry.

Gaudet envisions GTAP will have participants working 40 hours a week for a company in some type of geospatial support position and attending classes two nights a week. The grant will help pay tuition and help students connect their jobs to GTAP as they work toward a certificate, a two-year associate's degree or additional certification.

Other goals GTAP aims to accomplish are:

- Building on outcomes of NASA's National Workforce Development Education and Training Initiative;
- Identifying career paths for the geospatial workforce;
- Building the capacity of community colleges to offer geospatial technology certificate and technician/technology programs; and
- Partnering with Workforce Investment Network Job Centers for skill building in geospatial technology occupations.

Annex -- Waveland beats Bay

filed at the court, said an employee there on Friday. Apparently Bay St. Louis had not yet filed its petition for annexation of some of the same areas that Waveland has now claimed in its petition.

The move was unanimously approved by the board at a special meeting earlier Wednesday afternoon after weeks of strenuous planning by city officials, city attorney Zach Butterworth, the Jackson law firm of James Carroll and Chris Gouras of the Vicksburg based firm Urban Planning Consultants. The press was not notified that the meeting would take place. The city decided to go ahead and file the petition as a result of impending action by Bay St. Louis on its annexation plan; and public sentiment, which appeared to show favor for a more natural path of growth, said Butterworth.

But the plan is not something that just came up for discussion in the past few weeks or even months, he said. The city has been actively pursuing the idea at least a year or more. Recent actions by Bay St. Louis simply stepped up the time line for taking action.

The city felt that the plan proposed by Bay St. Louis would inhibit the natural growth path of the city (of Waveland), Butterworth said. Ward 1 Alderman Keith Mitchell said that city officials actually scaled back the area recommended for annexation by their consultants to give consideration to the the neighboring community of Bay St. Louis and the path of its future growth.

Because Waveland was first to file, Bay St. Louis will have to wait until the matter is resolved before taking any further action on their plan, Butterworth said. Of course there will be a period of comment in which opposition to the plan may be filed by Bay St. Louis or other affected parties.

"We decided that rather than let our future be decided by someone else, we would make a move to determine our own future," said Mitchell. "It was a unanimous decision by the board on both the plan and the proposed area which we feel takes into consideration the natural future growth path of our neighbors."

Vandals -- Rutherford Pier

Vanney said, several of the concrete piling were damaged by someone chipping at the concrete.

The top section of one piling was chipped some three or four inches deep after the plastic capping was damaged. Six of the pier's lights were tampered with, and four others were completely removed.

"The lights are supposed to be vandal-proof and cost $300 each, not to mention installation and shipping costs," Vanney said.

In an inventory of the plastic covers over the pilings, some 42 have been damaged. The covers cost $24 each plus freight and installation charges, Vanney said. At the far end of the pier, someone also spray painted two other lights. The two doors to the restrooms - which were recently installed - have also been damaged to a degree and will probably cost $300 to $500 to be properly repaired.

"You know, it's not only the time city crews have to spend in making the repairs on the pier," Vanney said, "you have to add the fact the workers could be doing other things instead of repairing vandalism."

The pier's "vandal-proof" security lights have proven to be anything but. Vandals on Wednesday broke six of the pier's lights and completely removed four others - at a replacement cost of $300 each, plus installation.

Police and city employees are constantly having to remind folks about facility restrictions, he said, such as: No diving and no swimming from the pier, as well as no bicycles, no skate-boards, and no animals on the pier. Police Officer Anderson Hall received the initial report of the damages to the pier and Detective Don Watson is investigating the vandalism.

Murder -- death penalty?

arrived on the scene and took over medical treatment.

"When officers arrived, the suspect was on the scene and was attempting to render aid to the child."

McNeil said AMR ambulance personnel took the infant, Alexis Nicole Nephew, to Hancock Medical Center, where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

"Investigation revealed that the child was left in the immediate care of a relative by the child's mother," Archelle Perret, McNeil said, "and was brought over to the location on Carroll St. by the relative. The child was left with (Boswell) for a period of time, during which the injuries ... occurred."

Assistant District Attorney Chris Schmidt said Friday that "the indictment (indicates) the serious nature of the crime. The statute allows for either the death penalty or life without parole, but it would be improper for me to speak to that at this time."

Boswell is scheduled to be arraigned in Hancock Circuit Court on Aug. 11. He remains at the Hancock Justice Facility without bond.

Crash -- Bay men killed

Clarence Martin of Harvey, was seriously injured. Rescue workers transported him to Slidell Memorial Hospital. His condition was not available at press time Saturday.

Both vehicles traveled about another 100 feet and landed in a ditch, reports say. The highway was closed for about two hours as a clean-up crew removed spilled diesel fuel.

The crash is still under investigation by officers of the the Louisiana State Police.

Merchiston Hall Galleries

Merchiston Hall Furniture Galleries, a Biloxi tradition since 1947, was founded on the conviction that the family home is an institution sacred to the hearts of all Americans. And in that tradition, L.E. Napier decided over 56 years ago to provide his customers with the kind of furnishings and accessories that he would want in his home. Indeed, the name of the store came from his favorite room, the study, in the Napier family home in Scotland-Merchiston Castle in Edinburgh. From that memory, that a business was born, Merchiston Hall.

Today the Leo Crapo family continues the tradition by carrying only the best names and the highest quality merchandise. Merchiston Hall has gained an enviable reputation throughout the South and beyond. Business firms and private homes alike trust the quality and personalized service from as far away as Iowa, North Carolina and California, joining those here in Mississippi and neighboring states.

The variety of merchandise offered is one reason for the Galleries' success. Time and again customers have found that whatever their decorating needs were, Merchiston Hall could meet them. From bedroom and dining furniture, upholstered furniture and accessories -- to wall coverings, carpeting, draperies and blinds, rugs and custom ordered furniture, one stands alone -- Merchiston Hall.

With 21,000 square feet of showroom, a complete inventory makes selection simple. And if a certain item requires special ordering, customers know that the price would be the same - just as if it were in stock. Add professional delivery or shipment anywhere, and you begin to see why satisfied customers depend on the Galleries for all their decorating needs.

What are your tastes? Merchiston Hall's professional interior design staff will assist you in creating that unique home environment which will express your personality. Of course, quality names like Drexel, Sherrill, Henredon, Simmons, Lexington, Thomasville and others can always be found at Merchiston Hall in an array of diverse styles & color. Whatever the atmosphere you desire, Merchiston Hall will make your ideas come alive.

As you can see there are many reasons why people from all areas of the South & beyond have returned to Merchiston Hall again and again. But the most important - consistent quality and excellent customer service -- just like in 1947, and for many years to come, makes you at home with Merchiston Hall. Merchiston Hall received the Harrison County Economic Excellence Award for Outstanding Small Business in 2002. Merchiston Hall is located at 918 Howard Ave., Downtown Biloxi, easily accessible by Highway 90 or I-10.

The Sea Coast Echo

Hancock's Local Newspaper since 1892

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The primary elections scheduled for Aug. 5 will include a paper ballot for the Democratic candidates for transportation commissioner, Southern District 2.

Due to Buster Hamm's death, voters have the opportunity to write in a candidate's name for the Democratic party. Wayne H. Brown is currently the only Democratic candidate. Republicans running for this office include Alana Abney and Arlin Regan.

Other candidates include the following:

Hancock County
Superintendent of Education

Myrna L. Bourgeois (Democrat)

She served as Superintendent of Education for Hancock County from 1992 to 1996 and served as the assistant principal and filled in acting principal concurrently at Gulfview Elementary.

"Your next superintendent must take on a greater responsibility to ensure achievement and success for all learners," she said. "A school's primary function is not only teaching but also seeing that a child learns."

David Kopf (Democrat)

David Kopf currently serves as the district personnel director for the Hancock County School District.

He has been a member of the district for 21 years and has served as the junior high principal at Hancock North Central and later the principal at Hancock High.

"As our district continues to grow, leadership becomes paramount," he said. "A safe environment for learning and teaching is imperative. The community, the faculty and the administration must know that they will have a superintendent who will be their working partner as the district faces changing state and federal guidelines."

Mike Ladner (Democrat)

Mike Ladner is currently serving first term as Superintendent of Education.

He retired from the United States Air Force after serving 21 years.

Ladner holds a master's degree in education, leadership and administration from William Carey College and a bachelor's degree in occupational education from Wayland Baptist University.

"I want to continue to improve academic standards, improve professional standards of education and develop a blueprint for addressing the growth in Hancock County."

Terrell Randolph (Republican)

Terrell Randolph was elected five times as Superintendent of Education for Hancock County.

He holds a master's degree in education administration from the University of Southern Mississippi and has completed all course work toward a doctorate in education administration.

During his term in office, Hancock High, East Hancock Elementary and Hancock Middle schools were built and over $40 million of new school construction and additions were completed. The district was one of the first five districts in the nation to supply 1,100 students and teachers in the high school with personal lap top computers.

Also during his term, students' ACT scores improved from early teens to better than 20, the district improved from the lowest 15 percent academically in the state to the top 25 percent in state and student attendance improved to 96-97 percent.

Hancock County Sheriff Thomas J. "Tom" Burleson (Democrat)

Thomas J. "Tom" Burleson began his professional law enforcement career with the Hancock County Sheriff's Department in 1985.

In 1986, the Bay St. Louis Police Department hired him for patrol division. He currently serves as chief of detectives, a position he has held for 12 years. Burleson received his police certification from Jackson Police Academy in 1987. He is also the first Bay officer to attend and graduate from the Federal Bureau of Investigation National Academy in Virginia in 2002, with a study emphasis in administration and budget management.

Certified by the National Rifle Association as a firearms instructor in 1988, Burleson became and continues to be the firearms instructor for the Bay Police Department. He is also a member of the Regional Organized Crime Information Center in Nashville, Tenn.

He has on-the-job experience in patrol, narcotics and general investigation.

Steve Garber (Democrat)

Steve Garber is currently serving his first term as Hancock County sheriff.

He is a 1991 graduate of the Harrison County Law Enforcement Academy.

As the sheriff, his accomplishments include the establishment of a specialized narcotics unit, which has made record numbers of arrests in the county; the development of a criminal investigation unit, which has solved over 70 percent of burglaries and thefts; the substantial increase in patrol units throughout county; the implementation of a crime prevention program for senior citizens; the establishment of a state certified officer training academy that has trained reserve officers throughout South Mississippi; and the establishment of a summer day camp for youth.

His other accomplishments include full-time deputies assigned to both Hancock High and Hancock Middle School; savings of $100,000 per year on inmate food cost; and receipt of over $380,000 in federal grants.

Ronald A. "Ronnie" Peterson (Democrat)

Ronald A. "Ronnie" Peterson currently serves as a security investigator at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis.

He is a Vietnam veteran and spent four years in the United States Marine Corp. Peterson served as Hancock County sheriff for five terms from 1980 to 2000.

"I am the most experienced and qualified candidate having served 20 years as your sheriff," he said. "I am also a proven leader and will bring leadership back to the office."

Richard "Rick" Fayard (Republican)

Richard "Rick" Fayard is a 12-year veteran with the Bay St. Louis Police Department and is currently a patrol supervisor.

The 1993 graduate of the Harrison County Law Enforcement Training Academy has received department citations for valor, bravery and outstanding law enforcement effort.

"The Hancock County Sheriff's Department is the largest law enforcement agency in Hancock County," he said. "It also has the most responsibility and people to serve. It is my goal to make it the premier agency in Hancock County and one of the best agencies to work for on the Gulf Coast."

CelticFest 2003 is just around the corner

THE SEA COAST ECHO

CelticFest Mississippi 2003, Celtic Heritage Society's 12th annual week-end of music, dance, and fun is almost here! CelticFest is a celebration of the Celtic nations including Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Cornwall, the Isle of Man and Brittany and will take place on September 5-7 at the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Museum. CelticFest features an exceptional variety of exciting Irish and Scottish music and dance on 4 stages, plus Celtic heritage, music and dance workshops, a children's area, Celtic specialty vendors, and plenty of food and drink.

Because much of the festival takes place indoors, CelticFest will be held RAIN OR SHINE!

CelticFest two headlining artists are: Dublin native and Irish balladeer, BRENDAN NOLAN and legendary Irish uilleann piper PADDY KEENAN. With what Dirty Linen magazine described his "rich baritone voice," Brendan Nolan has charmed audiences worldwide with songs learned in the Dublin folk scene. After a decade in Ontario, Brendan relocated to Florida where he began entertaining American folk fanatics full time. He has headlined at festivals across the country, most notably at the North Texas Irish Festival (#2 in the U.S.), and our own CelticFest Mississippi in 1997! Generally acknowledged as one of the most accomplished uilleann (pronounced ILL-in) pipers performing today, Paddy Keenan is certainly one of the most brilliant musicians of his generation.

He was a founding member of the Bothy Band, one of the first Irish traditional music bands to reach widespread popularity during the 1970's. Paddy's virtuosity on the pipes combined with the ferocity of his playing made him, in the opinion of many, the band's driving force. Paddy's solo recordings are celebrated by fans and critics alike, and this year received Ireland's Traditional Musician of the Year award for his pioneering work. Influence on young musicians, and continued dedication to the craft. Other CelticFest musical performers include: Bigger Dogs, Beyond the Pale, Legacy, Jim Flanagan, Smithfield Fair, Bounds Street, Spirits of the House, Spot and Albert, Father of the Waters Pipes and Drum Band and many more. If you enjoyed Riverdance, no less than seven Irish dance groups will be there to entertain you, including The New Orleans School of Irish Dance, McTeggart Irish Dancers, and Jackson Irish Dancers.

The festivities begin Friday night at 7pm to midnight with music/dance performances and an open tune session. On Saturday, the gates open at 10 am with entertainment and activities continuously until midnight (or later!). The children won't be left out—CelticFest is a family-friendly festival, and children are always welcome. Highlights of Saturday evening include a massive Irish Ceili Dance (pronounced 'kay-lee'-no dancing experience required) and an open singing session. The gates open again 11 am Sunday for another day of Celtic fun.

The 5th annual Irish Whiskey and Scotch Tasting starts Friday at 7:00. Sponsored by Fenian's Irish Pub and the Wine and Spirits Discount Center, the Whiskey Tasting is a benefit for CelticFest. This event has limited seating: $25/person advance, $30/person at the door; and reservations are strongly encouraged (call 601/ 825-2308 or e-mail rjt@bell-south.net).

For more information, please visit the CelticFest web site: <http://www.CelticFest.MS.org> or call the Ag Museum at 601/713-3365.

CelticFest's sponsors include: Fenian's Irish Pub, Guinness, Central Mississippi Health Services, Cabot Lodge Millsaps, telepak.net, Z-106 FM, The Planet Weekly, Stuart C. Irby Co., WLBT, Wine & Spirits Discount Center, and the Jackson Irish Dancers. This project is funded, in part by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in partnership with the Southern Arts Federation. This project is also funded, in part by a grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission, a state agency.

The Celtic Heritage Society is a Mississippi non-profit organization with the mission of promoting and preserving the culture of the Celtic nations. CelticFest is a family-oriented event, and all CHS events are open to the public.

Ginn retires, named state director

Following the bank's July 2003 board meeting, George A. Schloegel, Hancock Bank President and Chief Executive Officer, announced that James R. Ginn has retired as Executive Vice President after more than 40 years of service to the company. At the same time, Schloegel announced that Ginn has been named to the Hancock Bank of Mississippi board of directors.

"We are very pleased to appoint James Ginn to Hancock Bank's Mississippi board. He has been a mentor to hundreds of bankers throughout his career, and his longtime professional and personal commitment to the organization exemplify the integrity and dedication that have helped Hancock grow into one of the country's strongest financial institutions. In his role as a Mississippi director, he will remain a valuable resource as the company pursues opportunities throughout the Gulf South," said Schloegel.

Ginn, a Pearl River Community College (PRCC) alumnus, attended Delta State University and graduated from the Graduate School of Banking at Louisiana State University. Prior to retiring from his daily duties, he served for 20 years on the Hancock Holding Company senior management committee. Ginn joined

Hancock Bank in 1961. In 2002, the Mississippi Bankers Association (MBA) tapped Ginn for membership in the MBA's prestigious 40-Year Club for his four decades of service to the state's financial services industry. According to Schloegel, Ginn's experience as the regional executive officer responsible for operations, growth, and sales management of Hancock's Mississippi branches as well as one the company's senior credit officers will enable him to offer significant counsel and advice as a board member. A Hancock County native and Bay St. Louis High School graduate, Ginn has led and participated in countless civic and philanthropic initiatives, including the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Bay St. Louis School Board, Rotary, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, and United Way. He is a past president of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees and the Hancock County Heart Association. Additionally, Ginn is a past president of the Pearl River Community College Alumni Association and served on the PRCC Foundation board. He currently serves on the Coast Electric Power Association board of directors and as an interim pastor for the Assembly of God.

HMC sponsors coaches clinic

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Hancock Medical Center recently presented a Coach's Clinic for the Bay-Waveland and Hancock County school districts. The day long event, organized by HMC's school nurses and athletic trainers, provided the coaches with information on sports-related injuries.

During the clinic, Bay St. Louis orthopedic surgeon Jim Thriffley, IV, M.D. discussed common sports injury and treatment. Hancock Medical Center rehab director Mark Harris explained functional athletic positions (to minimize the risk of injury) and safe tackling techniques. Athletic trainer Russ Kenworthy told attendees how the sports medicine team works together to facilitate a treatment plan for each athlete.

Ella Mae Penton, R.N., director of HMC's school clinics, was also on hand to review basic first aid. She described how other diseases, such as asthma, hypertension and heat-related illnesses affect athletes. She also stressed the importance of the relationships between coach, nurse and athletic trainer.

Basketball camp continues success

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The 15th annual All American basketball camp directed by SSC head coach Jay Ladner was a huge success. The camp director stated that there were over 115 campers that attended the four-day camp held at St. Stanislaus this past week.

Ladner commented, "The camp this year was a huge success. We were at near capacity with 115 campers. It was almost to the point of having to turn some away."

The camp is designed to teach the participants about the fundamentals of the game; however, the overall goal of the camp is to make better citizens.

That goal is accomplished through a series of talks each night and the structure of the camp.

The campers receive expert instruction from some of the best coaches in the Gulf Coast area, as well as, some of the former players like Grady and Gabe Willis of SSC. They also receive some inspirational talks from these highly successful coaches. Some of the speakers this year were former Gulfport High head coach Bryan Caldwell who won the 2002 state 5A championship, current Gulfport High head coach Danny Grieves who won a state championship at Morton High School in 1998, and Bay High Lady Tigers head coach Debbie Triplett whose team captured the state crown in 2003 with a 35-1 record.

Plans are already being formulated for next summer's edition.

Bay is ready for Dixie Fastpitch World Series

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre said Friday that final plans are being completed as the city plays host to the 2003 Dixie Girls Fast Pitch Ponytail World Series, August 1-8.

Eleven teams of the best 11-12-year-olds female fast pitch softball players from 11 states and the City of Bay St. Louis will compete in a double elimination tournament to be held at the Bay St. Louis Sports Complex on Athletic Drive.

Favre said, "We are expecting some 1800 people to be in our community for this big Ponytail World Series. This not just a Bay St. Louis event, as it also involves Waveland, the County and Diamondhead."

Bay St. Louis had submitted a proposal to host the World Series of 2002, but Favre said the City decided to hold off for another year to be better prepared.

Teams and the followers will begin arriving on Friday with a host of events planned at the J.D. McCullough Stadium adjacent to the Bay Sports Complex.

Teams from Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana and Texas will be housed at Casino Magic, Bay St. Louis.

Virginia, Florida, Mississippi and North Carolina will call Waveland's Holiday Inn as home base.

Arkansas, South Carolina, Georgia and Bay St. Louis has Diamondhead Ramada Inn as its assigned hotel. Lonnie Fagout, tournament director on Friday said, "In addition to the teams, the latest tally he had was there were already 119 other rooms booked for tourney travelers at the three team hotels."

"There are still some teams in play-offs for their state championship title, so we do not know all of the cities as yet. The Mississippi championship team is East Central," Favre added.

Bay St. Louis represents the 12th team in tournament as it is the host city.

"We have had lots of support from many folks making this World Series possible. City staff, the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau, City of Waveland, Hancock County and so many others have helped and we appreciate the help of all," Favre stated.

Favre said one of the reasons Bay St. Louis was interested in bringing the 11-12-year-old girls World Series here, is to do a little extra, also to give our girls a life time opportunity.

Participating teams also received a listing of the area hotel accommodations in addition to the three majors ones in addition to a lot of other helpful information on the Bay and immediate area.

"To give you an idea of the importance of bringing this age group to Bay St. Louis, there are 12 cities already competing for the 2004 World Series which will be decided in August," Favre allowed.

Scarlet Sage shows off throughout the South

BY NORMAN WINTER
MSU Horticulturist
Central Mississippi
Research & Extension
Center

As I drive around Mississippi this summer, it seems the old-fashioned scarlet sage is still the showiest plant in the garden. Scarlet sage is our annual salvia known botanically as Salvia splendens.

Though I say old-fashioned, rest assured plant breeders have been working the past decade to bring us new colors and two-toned selections that will add razzle-dazzle to the landscape. The name "scarlet" is actually a bit misleading because there are so many other colors available now.

One thing I really appreciate about these workhorse flowers is that those I see in neighborhoods now will double in size by fall. They put on a show that is really hard to beat.

Color from spring through frost means this annual form of salvia is an exceptional buy and ranks as a stalwart performer. Its spiky texture is most welcome in a garden world dominated by round flowers.

Scarlet sage can still be planted with great success if you're lucky enough to find any remaining at the local garden center. The ideal site would get morning sun and afternoon shade. The soil should be very well drained. Plant on raised beds or amend heavy soils with the addition of compost or humus.

While preparing the soil, incorporate two pounds of a slow-release, 12-6-6-fertilizer per 100 square feet of planting area. Space the plants 10 to 12 inches apart, planting at the same depth they are growing in the container.

Water deeply once a week, particularly during long dry periods. If your area is like mine, this hasn't been an issue so far. In fact, I'm considering using a canoe to get to my plants.

Adding a good layer of mulch will reward the gardener with happier plants by keeping the root zone cooler and the moisture from quickly evaporating. Prune spent flowers to encourage branching and blossoms. This will really be

Though not many people may realize it, Hancock County has its own community radio station, that offers a welcome break to the monotony of top 40 radio. I discovered it recently while driving one weekend and desperately looking for a break in the nonstop 1950s rock-and-roll, crying in your beer country and screaming commercials that are the usual fare of the airways.

As 103.5 appeared on the screen my ears breathed a sigh of relief as a cosmic sounding new age space tune came across the airways. When that tune ended another blended smoothly into place and another and another all without the usual miracle weight loss pill commercial or the ranting of a frantic DJ. Where was this coming from?

Peg Remembered

Flounders at night are a delight to watch. From our porch, Stella and I can watch the almost firefly movement of a small group with a Coleman lantern move slowly in the shallows of a low tide.

Usually it's a family. You really can't have more than three persons to a lantern, and these are in a tight group so as to see into small area of the water lit by the lantern.

You don't have to flounder. If your scoop net has a good weave, you can catch soft-shell crabs. Soft-shells are crabs that have shed the hard shells they've outgrown. Till their new shell hardens, they are soft and absolutely delicious fried in a light batter and placed on some crispy French bread.

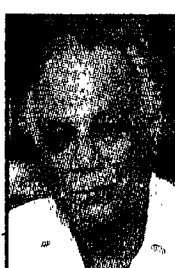

I remember one night when we went out with Peg, a wonderful neighbor from up the street, and two neighborhood children. With all the noise and confusion, I gave up any idea of seeing any flounder and we didn't. But we did catch about a dozen soft shells. These were small, the best kind. When we went in that night, Stella put them to soak overnight in milk and some Tabasco.

The next day, Peg came down the street bringing with her the two young soft shellers from the night before and we all sat down for a porch lunch. Stella dredged the crabs in seasoned flour, sautéed them in butter and we had a picnic on the porch with the crabs, French bread, iced sun tea and a detailed noisy replay of the previous night. Peg laughed, the children laughed, we all laughed. It was a great lunch!

Peg and her husband El are latecomers to our street. They moved here only twenty-five years ago. When they arrived, Stella, wanting Peg and El to feel at home, invited them to join us at a Nereids Ball one of the highlights of the year.

At that time the Nereids Krewe was made up almost exclusively of Waveland and Bay St. Louis women. The Krewe ran their Mardi Gras parade through the three short blocks on Coleman Avenue that comprise downtown Waveland. At the end of Coleman, the parade with its festive floats and rain of doubloons and beads turned left on the beach road and marched east along the seawall a ways before turning north again and then west so that the parade made a large loop. It was a wonderfully thing to see going along the narrow streets of the small town.

The Nereids Ball is actually the highlight of the krewe's celebration and the night that Peg and El joined us was an exceptionally nice ball. The tableau was beautifully choreographed and the food in the hall afterward were excellent.

Peg was a few years older than me and, as a new friend, I treated her deferentially. But after drinking my two allotted beers and since Stella was dancing with someone else, I turned and asked Peg if she would care to dance. She said she would be delighted.

Well, Peg was a delight - a beautiful, naturally graceful dancer. I twirled her, I back stepped, I shifted, I dipped, and she did them all and did them in a way that made me look good. I could do no wrong. I forgot that I had already had drank my limit. Again, I twirled her, I back stepped, I shifted, I dipped, I double dipped her, dropping her head low to the floor.

And I lost my balance. I dropped her. I fell on top of her. I lay there, not Area high school graduate, Jeanne Bonnet-Martin of Bay St. Louis works out a class schedule with the help of nursing instructor Patricia Streback. Bonnet-Martin, along with other area students, attended PRCC's early orientation this month.

PRCC's orientation session draws record numbers

THE SEA COAST ECHO

This month's orientation and early registration for new students at Pearl River Community College produced the largest crowd ever for the summer session, according to school officials.

By participating in the orientation and early registration sessions, new students received their class schedules for the coming fall term, learned about campus life and opportunities, met other students and talked with administrators, faculty and staff.

"Orientation is beneficial for new students," said Adam Breerwood, PRCC's Dean of Student Affairs. "It gives students an opportunity to visit our campus, meet school officials and get answers to all of their questions regarding campus life. We believe orientation is essential in helping students make a smooth transition to college life."

The orientation sessions

featured some 988 total students, most from Pearl River Community College's six-county district, including Forrest, Lamar, Hancock, Marion, Jefferson Davis and Pearl River.

Registration during orientation on the Poplarville campus last week included 729 new students; at PRCC's Forrest County Center Tuesday the number was 159.

School officials are anticipating another record enrollment this fall. In 2002, PRCC's fall enrollment reached 3,743 students on both the Poplarville and Hattiesburg campuses, a 10 percent increase over fall enrollment in 2001 and the largest ever in the school's 93-year history.

"I am extremely pleased with the turnout we had this year for orientation," said Breerwood. "It is evident that citizens in our surrounding communities are beginning to realize the quality product that Pearl River Community College has to offer."

New students enrolling in classes at the Poplarville campus who did not attend orientation and registration in July should plan to attend orientation at 8:30 a.m. Monday or Tuesday, Aug. 14-15, in the Nursing Building on the Poplarville campus.

For additional information, contact the Office of Recruitment and Orientation at (601) 403-1197.

Weddings and Engagements

Richardson, Dupuy wed in Gulfport

Miss Amanda Lynn Richardson became the bride of Mr. Brandon Dupuy, in Christ, before family and friends, on May 31, 2003. The double ring ceremony took place at six o'clock in the evening at First Baptist Church in Gulfport, MS. Dr. Chuck Register served as the officiating minister. The bride is the daughter of Mike and Amy Richardson of Bay St. Louis. She is the granddaughter of John and Judy Wrensted of Waveland and Norma Richardson of Bay St. Louis and the late Mr. Raymond Richardson, Sr. The groom is the son of Glenn and Tina Dupuy of Bay St. Louis. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stephan of Kiln, MS and Mr. and Mrs. Mansel Dupuy of LaCombe, LA.

The bride wore a Mary's white organza designer gown. The gown was appliquéd with sequined and beaded re-embroidered lace. The gown featured a halter neckline, corset bodice and basque waistline. Ribbon-like panels extended from the back waist to the hemline of a royal cathedral train. She wore a handmade veil and a tiara headpiece enhanced with crystals and pearls. She wore a drop pearl necklace which was accented with crystals and matching earrings. She carried a bouquet of white roses and hydrangeas, accented with lavender hydrangeas. The bride also carried a monogrammed handkerchief, a special memento from her late grandfather, Mr. Raymond Richardson, Sr.

Miss Angela Coster of Bay St. Louis attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Ms. Brandy Gehrmann of Long Beach, MS, Ms. Jennifer Peterson of Waveland, Ms. Casie Johnson of Bay St. Louis (cousin of the bride), Ms. Rebecca Dupuy of Kiln, MS (sister of the groom), Mrs. Jennifer Dupuy of Waveland (sister-in-law of the groom), and Miss Celeste Richardson of Waveland (cousin of the bride). The bridesmaids were dressed in formal, two-piece lavender gowns. They each carried a bouquet made of lavender roses and hydrangeas. The bridesmaids wore silver earrings and necklaces adorned with lavender crystal stones, which was a gift from the bride.

Miss Maddie Lafontaine of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride, served as the flower girl. She wore a two-piece white, satin formal gown with a white toile overlay. She wore a floral headpiece made from lavender and white roses, hydrangeas, and baby's breath. She carried a lavender basket containing rose petals.

Miss Tess Richardson of Bay St. Louis, sister of the bride, served as the miniature bride. She was dressed in a white Mary's designer gown very similar to the design of the bride's gown. Her headpiece consisted of a handmade veil and a tiara of crystals and pearls. She carried a miniature version of the bride's bouquet.

Mr. Glenn Dupuy served his son as the best man.

Groomsmen were Mr. Kirk Giger of Denham Springs, LA, Mr. Charlie Buckley of Waveland, Mr. Dean Cuevas of Kiln, MS, Mr. Cory Richardson of Bay St. Louis, brother of the bride, Mr. Marc Dupuy of Waveland and Mr. Greg Dupuy of Bay St. Louis, brothers of the groom. The groomsmen were attired in black formal tuxedos.

Mr. Ashton Dupuy of Waveland, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer and Mr. Hayden Dupuy of Waveland, nephew of the groom, served as the miniature groom. They both wore black formal tuxedos that matched the groomsmen.

Mr. Dennis Bordelon, Jr. of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the groom, Mr. Cameron Schwartz of Bay St. Louis, and Mr. Brent Richardson of Bay St. Louis, cousin of the bride served as ushers. They also wore black formal tuxedos. Mrs. Alana Rutledge was the accompanist for the ceremony.

The bridal party arrived at the reception in a CTA wedding trolley. The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Bay St. Louis. The reception hall was decorated in lavender and white spring flowers. The dance floor was accented with white columns draped with lavender and white hydrangeas and white toile. The five-tiered cake was detailed with delicate designs and adorned with lavender hydrangea clusters. Mr. Mike Ruiz and Company of Louisiana, provided music. The night before the wedding, a rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's family at the Bay St. Louis home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Bordelon, Sr., aunt and uncle of the groom. In July of 2002, the couple was honored with a surprise engagement party, given by the couple's parents on the patio of Benigno's Seafood Restaurant. In February, the bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower hosted by the groom's family at the Bay St. Louis home of Mrs. Jutta Bordelon. In March, the bride's family hosted a couple's shower at the Waveland home of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Schmitt, aunt and uncle of the bride. In April, the bride was honored with a kitchen shower hosted by aunts and cousins, in the home of her late great-grandmother, Mrs. Edna Poolson.

After honeymooning in Glacier Park, Montana, the couple resides in Kiln, MS.

Hancock County couple endows MSU physics scholarship

Larry and Judy Grillot of Diamondhead are establishing a scholarship endowment for physics majors in the College of Arts and Sciences at Mississippi State University.

Larry Grillot, a Crystal Springs native, graduated from MSU in 1968 with a bachelor of science degree in physics. After completing a doctorate in geological sciences at Brown University, he began a 30-year professional career with Phillips Petroleum Co.

He retired in February of this year after holding a variety of assignments in the areas of oil and gas exploration, research and development, and general management.

Grillot and his wife, the former Judith Edwards of North Carolina, were married in 1969, not long after he left MSU. They are the parents of two daughters, Lauren and Leslie.

The Grillot Scholarship

will be awarded annually to a full-time freshman physics major. Applicants must be enrolling for the first time with a 25 or higher American College Test composite score and a high school grade-point average not lower than a 3.0 (on a 4-point scale). Preference will be given to Mississippi residents.

Radio -- WQRZ-LP 103.5

37, and Christine Stach, 32. Phillips serves as music director and Stach serves as program director, operating the station 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The station began broadcasting at the end of January, realizing a lifelong dream of Brice, to operate a radio station.

Brice, who says he is "gifted" electronically, passed on his gift to Stach. The two have worked extensively in the field of electronic repair. Both also share a love of amateur or "ham" radio. As a matter of fact, the couple met through ham radio when Christine was visiting her father in Slidell. He was a ham operator and Phillips was one of the people he was communicating with.

The couple also share the fact that both are disabled. Christine was diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis, a chronic disease of the central nervous system, in 1999 after being told for a time that her symptoms were all in her mind and advised to seek psychiatric care. An MRI finally revealed the real cause of her problems. Since that time the disease has taken its toll on her life, with some days being better than others, she said. Phillips, diagnosed more recently with disabilities, is not yet comfortable talking about his problems publicly, he said.

Multi-talented, the couple are also trained as first responders and CPR instructors. And though being officially labeled as handicapped interferes with their rights to teach these life saving techniques to others, the couple say they would like to win the right to do just that again, to teach other handicapped individuals.

They would also like to serve as an inspiration to other handicapped people, they say, to get up and get out and do something meaningful with their lives.

They feel strongly about helping other handicapped individuals move out into the world and out from behind closed doors, they say.

The station, besides providing an alternative to the usual musical fare, is meant to serve as community educational and communication center, as well as an emergency warning service for the community. And Phillips and Stach are working hard to ensure that that goal is realized. As "hams," community alert and communication during possible disasters is one of their top priorities with the station, they said.

Right now the station receives alert statements such as weather warnings, and such, but is not yet authorized to output a warning signal. An agreement with the cities of Bay St. Louis, Waveland, and the county would have to be reached to achieve this goal.

They can deliver a weather warning verbally and WQRZ is actually where my husband heard about approaching tropical storm Bill on the Sunday afternoon just before he made his surprise appearance. Had we not heard this announcement on the radio, it is unlikely we would have heard it until the next morning, while watching the news and weather.

The output of warning signals for national disasters, such as acts of terrorism, is licensed by the Federal Communications Commission.

The couple hope also to broadcast live events from community meetings sometime in the future.

For this project to succeed, our own community radio station, the support of the community is needed. The Hancock County Amateur Radio Association is a tax exempt 501(c)(3) organization, serving the community since 1994. WQRZ-LP is a non-commercial educational low power FCC licensed Broadcast Station in the city of Bay St. Louis.

To become a supporting member or make a contribution to this project, send contributions to HCARA-WQRZ at P.O. Box 1145, Kiln, MS., 39556-1145. Call the station at 228-463-1035 for levels of membership. All contributions are tax deductible.

The station welcomes your comments, suggestions and involvement in current or future programming.

knowing what to do. I mean it isn't like you can wiggle when you're lying on top of an older woman.

Peg was just as startled as I was, but she kept smiling. As I braced myself to somehow scramble up, I realized the music had stopped and people were coming off the dance floor.

I recognized Stella's voice. Peg recognized Stella's voice. We turned to look to one side, both still flat on the floor - she on the bottom, me on top, and Stella with her partner, talking continuously, stepped nonchalantly over both of us and proceeded back to our table. I scrambled to my feet, helped Peg up, and we rejoined the table.

This was a long time ago and Peg and El became close friends with Stella and me over the years.

She even danced with me at her daughter's wedding several years later! There are many stories about our friendship.

The one Peg liked to tell was when she found our three Weimaraners running loose on the road near the railroad tracks. Knowing we weren't home, she stopped and forced the three large dogs, with a great deal of growls and complaints from them, into the back of her car.

With the three animals carrying on in her back seat, she hurried to our house.

However, when she drove up our driveway she was greeted by the sight of our three female hounds peering inquisitively at her over our back fence.

She turned and stared at the three hounds she had in her back seat who glared belligerently back at her.

She told me later that she quickly put the car in reverse and took the unhappy Weimaraners back to where she found them.

There she opened the back door and let them out. Only after they jumped out of the car, did she (a five-time grandmother) realize the dogs she had picked up and tried to give us were all males!

There are other stories that are filled with Peg. We'll remember them on occasion and when we do, Peg will be with us again.

important for your late summer and fall display.

Feed a month after planting with a light application of fertilizer and every six to eight weeks through September.

For the best landscape impact, mass plant the salvia. The scarlet sage comes in almost any color, including two tones, so it helps to know your color combinations. Try a red variety like Vista Red in front of bush allamanda, or with yellow marigolds.

Try lavender to purple forms with the two-toned petunias of the same colors. Use underneath cleome of the same color. They are also very well suited to large, mixed containers.

Red forms like Vista Red,

Red Hot Sally, St. John's Fire and Flare are still among the most popular. The Salsa series is popular because of its bi-colored varieties. Another that is most unique and beautiful is called Sangria and features white to creamy yellow bracts and a scarlet tube floret.

Hummingbird lovers will relish the fact that these acrobatic visitors find the scarlet sage among the most delectable plants in the garden. What could be better -- beauty, toughness and scores of ruby-throated hummingbirds, too.

You too will have all of this, plus a sense of "green thumb satisfaction" when you grow the scarlet sage.

Life's urgency begets slowdown

As my generation of contemporaries dwindles with ever-quicken- ing steps, I have no choice but to wonder when my turn will come. Interestingly, that wondering amounts to no more than a clinical analysis, in that it has not affected my positive feelings about life and the everyday things that go on.

Yes, I still feel nearly the way I felt yesteryear when the odds told me that I likely had many decades of life ahead of me. Admittedly, there is an added sense of urgency brought on by the unrelenting eternal roll call of people all around, plus the reality that this may very well be my last decade of life.

However, there is a particular, very detailed side to those ever-quicken- ing steps which speaks at one and the same time of urgency and deliberation. The urgency goes without saying, because even the youngest person has no clue as to how long one's own earthly sojourn will last.

It is deliberation, the foil of urgency, which increasingly seizes our attention as we grow older. Urgency drives us to realize, to speak, to do, to achieve the most important things in our life before the sands run out of our hourglass. But deliberation moves in a counter direction, slowing us down to smell the roses, to rush past no one, to experience everything in great detail.

Speedup and slowdown are the seemingly contradictory forces gathering momentum in us as we gradually put on the years. Speedup/urgency is an overwhelming imperative. Slowdown/deliberation is the prized ingredient of our latter days which enables us to wring all the enjoyment out of life.

Among many other deficiencies, the young suffer from the illusion that more is better, bigger is better, and more expensive is better. As the years fall away, we discover that better is better at any quantity, at any size and at any price. We simply learn to seek what is better, not more, bigger or pricier.

It is no less than amazing that everyone, everything looks clearer, more real and more enjoyable to the eye than in the days of my childhood and youth. Some 20 years ago I wrote a column titled "Develop Your Photo." I understand much more now than then how true it is that the snapshots taken by our minds can and should be enhanced and perfected over the years.

Thus, as the twilight of my life makes its presence felt, I am greatly cheered to discover that - by golly! - I feel the same as I always have.

The same curiosity and mischief of mind are still there; in some ways, in even greater force and intensity. Our mind, of course, is the larger part of life.

By the grace of God and a vegan (totally vegetarian) food regimen dating back to April 30, 1996, all the occasional minor aches, soreness, stiffness or weakness in my fingers and legs have disappeared. "You know you are getting old when everything hurts; what doesn't hurt doesn't work."

I have flown in the face of that truism, and I am now flying above it.

No, I do not have any pains anywhere. You have heard some of this before, but it is worth repeating. My 8-year bout with prostatitis began to disappear 3 weeks after I dropped all animal products. My prostate is now normal.

An indescribable shocker to a high leaper and hardened athlete, the gradual weakening of my muscles has given way to a very gradual retoning and strengthening of my muscles. Apart from his impending fourth divorce, I can stand next to James Brown and concur: "I feel good!"

In fact, at times I believe I can fly! Well, almost. Apart from the obvious physical limitations vis-à-vis 40 years ago, I feel equally as well as I did all those moons ago. Even my sinuses are vastly improved, practically normal.

Folks, as you move on in years, you will discover the same things I have, and you will know that you hold the keys to health and contentment in your mind and your hands. Just do not do what most people do. They know what is wrong and what the solution is, but they want no part of food discipline.

Who cares how much we rough up or even savage our bodies when we are young? After all, young bodies can withstand all the abuse we administer to them: rough food, drink and plain abuse. The young can even rationalize that such abuse and over-exercise equate to both quantity and quality of life.

As the shadows grow longer in our life, we can tell the young and everyone up front that there are severe penalties to pay for abusing food, drink, substances and our bodies themselves. Where is quality of life for someone in the throes of diabetes, hypertension, heart disease and cancer?

Yes, the years are reminding me more and more that we are pilgrims, sojourners here in this valley of tears, gradually wending our way toward the eternal reign of the great King of the universe. Whatever urgency there may be is quite subdued in the deliberate enjoyment of the details of creation.

As I celebrate what may be my last decade of life here, I have the impish suspicion that it will totter 2 or 3 decades. Naturally, with a wink toward God in heaven, I will do all in my power to go jauntily through those decades.

The "Word" for the Week Faith and Saving Faith

Dennis J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

There are many different kinds of faith. For example, we believe if we only have enough faith everything will turn out all right.

This is faith in faith. Then there is faith in ourselves. Some believe, falsely to be sure, they can live the kind of life which will earn them a place in heaven.

"But we maintain that a man is justified by faith apart from works" (Romans 3:28).

The Bible is very clear on this. I'll mention the place of works in a moment. There is also a faith to work miracles. But this kind of faith is no guarantee of heaven.

Jesus sent Judas Iscariot out to preach and work miracles. But Judas was the arch reprobate. There is a temporary faith. It looks like real saving faith. Jesus describes this kind of faith in the parable of the soils.

"This is the man who hears the Word, and immediately receives it with joy; yet he has no firm root in himself, but is only temporary, and when affliction comes because of the word, immediately he falls away" (Matthew 13:20-21).

What about faith that claims the heavenly reward? Three things can be said about this faith. First, it is a gift of God.

"For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God" not as a result of works that no one should boast" (Ephesians 2:8-9).

Second, it is faith in a person, Jesus Christ. "Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you shall be saved" (Acts 16:31).

Third, it is faith that displays itself through actions. "I will show you my faith by my works" (James 2:18). Works are never the basis of salvation. But good deeds are a manifestation of the presence of faith.

Scripture Says . . .

By Ed Young

If you just read these following scriptures, you will see where Bible prophecy have come to pass...thousands of years ago Moses predicted what would happen to the Jewish people; let's read. "And the Lord will scatter you among ALL PEOPLES, from one end of the earth to the other". Deuteronomy 28:64.

However, the Lord also promised to bring them back to their PROMISE LAND.

"Fear not for I am with you; I will bring your OFFSPRING from the east, and from the west. I will GATHER YOU; I will say to the north, give up, and to the south. Do not with hold, Isaiah 43:5, 6.

Thus says the Lord God: Behold, I will take the people of Israel from the NATIONS among which they have gone, and will gather them from all sides, and bring them to their own land, and I will make them ONE NATION in the Land. Ezekiel 37:21, 22.

Dear Reader, this has already happened in 1948, the nation of Israel is being established.

The Lord Jesus predicted this also in the new testament "they will fall by the edge of the sword, and be led CAPTIVE among ALL NATIONS; and Jerusalem will be trodden down by the Gentiles until The TIMES OF THE GENTILES ARE FULFILLED: Luke 21:24.

My friend this event happened in 1967 in the month of June. The Jews now control Jerusalem for the first time in 2500 years. Jesus said this would be one of the SIGNS before His return.

His return is near, very near.

St. Clare Catholic Church

It's been said that many people, in some way, are searching for God. Reaching out to those who are looking for answers is what RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults) is all about. It is a continuing process of prayer, study and discussion to bring new members into the Catholic Church.

Noel Phillips, Director of Religious Education for the parish, said that the lay members of St. Clare will be reaching out to:

1. Unbaptized adults and baptized Christians from other faiths who want to learn more about the Catholic faith and possibly become Catholics;

2. Catholics who may have been baptized but have not received the other Sacraments required of Catholics.

The first phase, which begins on Aug. 28 at 7 p. m. at St. Clare, 234 South Beach Boulevard, Waveland, is a preliminary program to explain the process of preparing adults for initiation into the church through the reception of the Sacrament of Baptism, the Eucharist and Confirmation.

Parishioners are invited to ask friends and neighbors to the meeting, as well as those who may benefit from the inquiry and all who may wish to join as sponsors or workers in this outreach project.

For further information, contact Noel Phillips at 228-467-9296 or the Rectory at 228-467-9271.

Military Mention

Airman 1st Class Jason Ellis of Tinker AFB, Oklahoma, attached to the 552nd CMS was recently recognized by his Commander for designing a coin for their squadron. The coin depicts a cobra holding a wrench since their unit is a maintenance unit. It also bears Jason's initials.

The coin is given to each member of the squadron, and then gets circulated around the world. So far, it has traveled to Kuwait and Iraq.

Jason is a 1999 graduate of Hancock High School and entered the Air Force in May 2001. Along with this award, he also designed his company's tee shirt in Basic Training, and then graduated with honors from his advanced training at Keesler Air Force Base.

He is the son of John Ellis of Saucier and Kathy Hager of Pass Christian. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Poillion of Pass Christian and Mrs. Juliette Ellis of Long Beach, MS, and the late Cereme Ellis.

Lucinda Perniciaro graduate of Bay High School 1999 Corpsman(Medic) United States Navy serving at Marine Corps Base Kaneohe Bay HI was recently promoted to a Petty Officer 3rd class. She has served at Waterfront Operations SAR (Search and Rescue units) since June of 2000. She graduated boot camp in 1999 in Great Lakes II. She was trained and advanced in early 2000 Corpsman School at The Great Lakes Naval Training Center in IL. She is the daughter of Joseph and Teresa Perniciaro of Diamondhead.

Marine Corps Lance Cpl. Robert C. Day, a 1999 graduate of St. Stanislaus High School, Bay St. Louis, Miss., recently completed a two-week bilateral training exercise with Albanian military forces while assigned to the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), based in Camp Lejeune, N.C. The unit is currently aboard the USS Iwo Jima.

Day is one of more than 4,000 Pacific Fleet Sailors and Marines who deployed aboard the ships of the USS Iwo Jima Amphibious Ready Group.

Drawing upon lessons learned in recent operations in Mosul, Iraq, Day's unit sought to create a training exercise that included every element of the MEU with specific emphasis on combat service support of secure convoy procedures.

Day's unit is an expeditionary intervention force with the ability to rapidly organize for combat operations in virtually any environment. MEUs are composed of more than 2,000 personnel and are divided into an infantry battalion, aircraft squadron, support group and command element.

With this combination, Day's unit supplies and sustains itself for either quick mission accomplishment or clearing the way for follow-on forces.

Principals hit the books at Millsaps

THE ECHO
Fifty-six school principals from across Mississippi met at Millsaps College June 15-20 to attend the annual Millsaps Principals' Summer Institute. The Institute gives principals a chance to reflect on their leadership practices, learn from one another and hear new ideas from nationally recognized education experts.

Millsaps is a privately supported college founded in 1890 and affiliated with The United Methodist Church. Among national liberal arts colleges, Millsaps ranks in the top third overall and is 20th in value according to U.S. News & World Report (September 2002). The College is the only institution in Mississippi ever to be listed in The Fiske Guide to Colleges and has been recognized by The Templeton Foundation as a college that encourages character development. Millsaps is the only national liberal arts college in the United States with both a Phi Beta Kappa chapter and accreditation of its B.B.A. and M.B.A. programs by AACSB International - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business.

National award winner & All-American Collegiate Scholar from Alcorn State

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that LaKeshia Nicole Myers of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been named an All-American Collegiate Scholar.

The USAA has established the All-American Collegiate Award Program to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Collegiate Scholars must earn a 3.3, or higher, grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA. These are awards few students can ever hope to attain.

LaKeshia Nicole Myers, a graduate of Rufus King International Baccalaureate High School, who attends Alcorn State University was nominated for this national award by university registrar, Dr. Alice D. Gill. LaKeshia Myers will appear in the All-American Collegiate Yearbook, which is published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, winners of the All-American Collegiate Awards should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Founder of the United States Achievement Academy.

LaKeshia Nicole Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny C. and Githa Myers from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Elvatus and Gladys Wheeler of Collins, Mississippi, and the late

Vicki Lawrence and 'Mama' to appear at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Aug. 7-9

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Vicki Lawrence, the multi-talented recording artist and star of television and stage, plus her alter ego, "mama," will grace the stage at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis for four days, August 7 - 9 at 9 p.m. and August 10 at 6 p.m. Tickets are $14.95, $19.95 and $24.95 and on sale at the Casino Magic Box Office by calling 1-800-5-MAGIC-5 or at any Ticketmaster location.

Lawrence's career began when during her senior year of high school, she sent Carol Burnett a letter that included a local newspaper article mentioning their resemblance and inviting Burnett to the local fire department's "Miss Fireball Contest" in which she was performing. Burnett, looking for an actress to play her kid sister on her new variety series, made arrangements to come to the event. The rest is television history. "The Carol Burnett Show" premiered in the fall of 1967; the same year Lawrence entered UCLA to study Theater Arts. She spent 11 years with Burnett, earning one Emmy

Vicki Lawrence

Award and five Emmy nominations. She also earned a golf record in 1973 for the international hit, "The Night the Lights Went Out in Georgia."

After the Burnett show ended, Lawrence went on to star in her own TV series, "Mama's Family" with Ken Berry, Dorothy Lyman, Beverly Archer, and Allan Kayser. The last original episode was made in January of 1990, completing five years of first-run syndication.

The show still can be seen daily throughout most of the country. Since then, she has been the host of the game show, "Win, Lose or Draw," had her own talk show, "Vicki," which earned her a Daytime Emmy nomination, and was briefly the host of "Fox After Breakfast." On stage Lawrence has appeared in numerous production, including

"Carousel," "Send Me No Flowers," "No, No, Nanette," and most recently, live from the Grand Ole Opry, "Nunsense 3: The Jamboree" which aired on TNN.

Lawrence also travels all over the country speaking to women's organizations about her life and career, women's health, and being a woman in a man's world. All the while she approached everything with her characteristic sense of humor.

reminding us that "Life is much too serious to be taken seriously." In 1995, Simon and Schuster published her autobiography entitled, "Vicki!" The True Life Adventures of Miss Fireball."

In 1974, Lawrence married the head of CBS make-up, Al Schultz, who is both her best friend and professional partner; they have two children, Courtney, 26, and Garrett, 24. In their spare time Al and Vicki enjoy yacht racing and own a 70-foot sloop named, fittingly, "Vicki."

Must be 21 to attend.

Carlos Alazraqui

Checking in With Carlos Alazraqui

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

After a decade of providing voices for characters and years of stand-up comedy before that, Carlos Alazraqui forever is linked to a tiny dog. It is his voice that comes out of the Chihuahua who says, "Yo quiero Taco Bell."

He slips into that silly little voice and many others as he talks about his hopes, now that he finally has landed a gig where his body also is on screen. Alazraqui plays James Garcia on Comedy Central's "reality spoof" "Reno 911!" airing Wednesdays.

"It's awesome, and we are almost done," he says of the 13 episodes. "It's the best creative process because we don't have the network execs around during table reads, and we are pretty much left to our own devices. The director can edit on the spot ... and we are not bogged down by all the suits.

"I always felt that comedy should be left to those who actually do it," Alazraqui continues. "We can go places and take risks. I play a character that's really bad, and I say things that might offend some people. I am ostracized by the rest of the force. I am racist, misogynistic and insecure. And underneath all that is the guy you want there. He will take the bullet for you. He takes himself so seriously."

As a stand-up comedian, Alazraqui does not. He has done sets about his parents coming from Argentina, and easily slips into a riff about how much he hates the Yankees.

"I love watching ESPN so I can make sure that the Yankees lost that day," he says. "Oh, who did Steinbrenner buy today? Wondering if the Yankees will make the playoffs is like wondering if the freshman who took a hooker to his prom will score. Dude, you paid for it, of course you will score."

Hometown: Born in Yonkers, N.Y., grew up in Concord, Calif.

Resides in: North Hollywood. "My house has always been this floating boarding house where friends come and go," he says.

Pets: A black lab, Jackie O, and a shepherd mix, Max Baer Jr.

Education: Degree in recreation administration from Sacramento State University.

Early jobs: Setting up programs at a senior citizen center, working in health clubs.

Film: "Papal Cab," "Jimmy Neutron Boy Genius," "A Bug's Life."

TV: "Mucha Lucha!" "CatDog: The Great Parent Mystery," "Fairly Oddparents."

Significant Other: Single, but angling to meet Parminder K. Nagra.

Featured Melissa Joan Hart invites everybody to her wedding

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Here comes the bride, with many more guests than the norm in attendance.

Actress Melissa Joan Hart ("Sabrina, the Teenage Witch") and her new husband, Mark Wilkerson of the music group Course of Nature, have turned their nuptials into a TV event. The result can be seen starting Sunday, July 27, when ABC Family premieres the miniseries "Tying the Knot: The Wedding of Melissa Joan Hart." Five more episodes (preceded by a repeat of the premiere) follow on Saturday, Aug. 2, with the finale being a one-hour wedding show that was staged and taped in Florence, Italy.

"This isn't really a reality show," maintains Hart, who is an executive producer of the program along with her mother, Paula. "That's more like having hidden cameras and wearing a microphone all the time. This was about having planned shooting days, so it's like a biography or a 'how-to' show on getting married. It's not like 'The Bachelor,' where there are cat-fights and things like that. It's just a really nice story of two people who fall in love and marry."

Hart realizes, though, that viewers may anticipate something spicier. She notes that she and Wilkerson, whom she met at last year's Kentucky Derby, "come from two different places. He's from Alabama and I'm from L.A., and some people may expect to see a clash between our families, but that just didn't happen. You can't make it happen, and the last thing you want to do during a wedding is to cause more drama."

Cover Story

Forecast for summer soaps: hot and steamy

By Candace Havens
© Zap2it

It's summertime and the living is sexy, especially if you are a fan of daytime television. The warm weather brings a plethora of tales involving heated romantic triangles, intrigue and young faces. Oh, and lots of seminude bodies.

"The summer is a time for the kids," says Linda Dano, who plays Rae Cummings Buchanan on ABC's "One Life to Live." "The clothes come off and the story lines get steamy."

The summer of 2003 is no exception. Each of the daytime serials has its own way of turning up the heat to a higher degree when the weather warms.

The sheer hunk factor on ABC's "All My Children" has risen about 100 degrees this season. Since spring, the characters Greenlee Smythe du Pres and Kendall Hart (Rebecca Budig, Alicia Minshew) have been in search of a new spokesman for their company, Fusion.

"Well, it's been an interesting summer to say the least," Budig laughs. "We've been traveling around the country looking for the sexiest man in America. It's sort of a show within a show, and we go and these guys try out to be the model for Fusion."

"I can't wait for the viewers to get involved because they'll be voting for one guy a week over a five-week period. Then those five will be finalists and will pick our new spokesmodel. I'm not sure I've ever looked at so many men, but I haven't minded a bit."

Cameron Mathison (Ryan), who returned to "AMC" this summer, is a pro at losing his shirt. Whether it's for the show or at soap opera fan events, Mathison always tries to oblige his fans by showing off his abs. "It doesn't matter what time of the year it is," he says. "If it's in the script you've got to do it. And it's just one of those crazy things the fans ask for." At a Super Soap Weekend in Florida, he commented, "I don't do it every time, but you know it makes them happy to see a little skin, so why not? Soaps are supposed to be sexy."

Budig says she and Minshew have favorites, but the decision will be left to fans, who can vote via cell phone or on abc.com.

"There are certainly some of the sexier guys that we would like to see win because the one who does could end up with a contract with the show. And we'd be working with him on a daily basis. A romance with any of the guys we've seen would be fine with me. Oh, for my character that is," Budig says.

Juicing up story lines is a common practice during summer, as stories move faster and romances become sexier.

"We like to think we have high stakes and that we've got a pretty good pace to the storytelling all year long," says Mary Alice Dwyer-Dobbin, executive in charge of production for Procter & Gamble. "But what we really try to do in the summer is hope that our shows reflect the weather. That means high degrees of heat. We try to do that with the characters, story and production values."

"In the summer, we pull out the country club set, and we get the sand delivered for the beach set, and we've got the swimming pool up and the hot tubs out. It just so happens on both 'Guiding Light' and 'As the World Turns,' we have some pretty good romances going on and we have some great mystery and suspense stories."

Unlike a lot of the others, CBS soaps "GL" and "ATWT" try to keep characters of all ages on the canvas. "It's not just teen characters that appeal to the younger viewers who are out there in the summertime," Dwyer-Dobbin says. "On 'GL,' one of the story lines that's playing hot and heavy does involve our teens, but it's a murder mystery and romance with a little family drama thrown in."

The triangle on "GL" involves Ben Reade, Marina Cooper and Shayne Lewis (Matthew Bomer, Aubrey Dollar, Marty West). On her 18th birthday, Marina had been prepared to give her virginity to Ben, but that night she learned he was a male escort and the woman he was with ended up dead in a bathtub. In her sorrow, Marina turned to Shane, but she still had feelings for Ben. The story culminates in an exciting ending.

West plays Yanks, but hails from England

Q Why do we not hear a thing about the wonderful, handsome, sexy young actor from HBO's "The Wire" named Dominic West? He also had a small part in "Chicago." -J. Deegan, Holly, Mich.

A West snagged a SAG Award for his performance as Renee Zellweger's murder victim in the opening scenes of "Chicago." He uses an American accent in that movie and his HBO "Wire" gig, but the 33-year-old actor actually hails from England, where he has done much of his previous work (you can hear his more classically trained speech opposite Calista Flockhart and Christian Bale in 1999's "A Midsummer Night's Dream").

Other film and TV movie credits include "28 Days" (as Sandra Bullock's drunken English beau), "A Christmas Carol" (as the nephew of Patrick Stewart's Scrooge), "Rock Star," "Spice World" and several others. Expect his career to soar higher after he co-stars with Julia Roberts and Kirsten Dunst in the film drama "Mona Lisa Smile," due out in December.

West, who is single, has a young daughter with former girlfriend Polly Astor.

Q I saw an item several months ago that my favorite actor, Brad Johnson, was doing a new series for ABC, but I haven't heard anything since. Can you fill me in? -Nancy in Westminster, Md.

A Nancy, you'll be sorry to hear that ABC decided to pass on Johnson's pilot, "Alaska," about an Alaskan trooper who investigates bizarre murders. It's not on the fall schedule as it had been expected to be.

Still, the 43-year-old former Marlboro Man, who still often gets mistaken for look-alike star Tom Berenger, has hardly been idle lately. Johnson starred in Sci-Fi Channel's March movie "Riverworld," which aired again just last week, and he has an ongoing role as Rayford Steele in the "Left Behind" home video series.

Q What happened to the new series "Hunter"? -Rick Zurawski, Mokena, Ill.

A The Fred Dryer police drama was yanked after it tanked in the ratings, even given the modest expectations for Saturday night programs. Two remaining episodes have yet to be scheduled, and there are no plans for any more "Hunter" TV movies.

Imaginative 'Peacemakers' explores frontier forensics

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Clearly USA Network is onto something.

While other basic cable networks struggle with only limited success to launch original series that are both popular and imaginative, USA has had major back-to-back successes with an eerie adaptation of Stephen King's "The Dead Zone" and the quirky mystery-comedy "Monk," the latter propelled by the giddy talents of Tony Shalhoub in the title role.

Starting this week, USA tries to go three for three with the premiere of "Peacemakers," a decidedly offbeat and inventive Western premiering Wednesday, July 30.

Former Oscar nominee Tom Berenger ("Platoon") anchors the show as grizzled, grumpy Federal Marshal Jared Stone, a middle-aged frontier lawman who sees his old-style investigative techniques losing ground to bold new police procedures in the 1880s West.

Jared is barely resigned to the fact that he has to begin wearing eye-glasses when his orderly world is jolted by the arrival of Larimer Finch (Peter O'Meara), a Yale-trained young Pinkerton agent with a wagonload of newfangled forensics equipment and even more attitude, and Katie Owen (Amy Carlson, "Third Watch"), a strong-minded medical student who returns home to run the family undertaking business.

The three butt heads repeatedly during their first investigation together. Larimer does everything but call Jared "Gramps," while Jared prefers to put his faith in old methodology (such as listening to town gossip) rather than the new fingerprinting and photographic techniques his arrogant young colleague champions or some of the befuddling medical procedures at which Katie excels.

By the end of the opening episode, however, each has recognized, however reluctantly, that the others have strong contributions to offer and they agree to work as a team.

It may take a little adjusting for some viewers to see Berenger, a former male sex symbol who remains handsome and fit, in a role in which the character's advancing years are a key component in the show's central premise. Berenger, 54, insists his ego remains unbruised.

"I wear reading glasses myself, and acknowledging that I am getting older is not a big deal for me, either personally or as an actor," he says. "If anything, I embrace the new character things that are available to me - I love that this guy is cranky and irritable now and then, you know? It leads to good humor, especially playing with the two younger characters who don't always understand what's going on with me or what I'm thinking. I like it. It's funny."

Berenger, who did a multi-episode arc on the NBC drama "Third Watch" last season, says he was "sort of looking" for another TV project when the "Peacemakers" script came along. The USA series struck him as imaginative and, even more important, it played to his strong love for historical subjects.

"I'm absolutely a history buff, and that may be my biggest asset to this show, because the producers and writers are always asking, 'Now, would this have happened (at that point in history)?' And sometimes I have to say, 'Well, not really, but you're close,' and if it's within, say, a 10-year range, we usually go with it."

"They're having a lot of fun coming up with some of these things. An upcoming episode features a hydraulic gallows, sort of state-of-the-art capital punishment. I don't know where they found this, but it clearly turned up in their research. That's kind of funny and morbid at the same time, isn't it? They also had something like a court stenographer's dictation machine around that period, and you'll see that in a future episode."

Warming to his subject, Berenger adds that he himself also comes up with ideas he'd like to use in the show, even if they amount to little throwaway lines or scenes that relay to viewers a sense of what is happening across the nation as inventive technology began to shift into overdrive.

"I want to do a sequence with a guy named Thomas Crapper, who is coming through selling the first porcelain toilets, and an Austrian immigrant named 'Kohler' selling indoor plumbing," Berenger says. "It won't be what the episode is about - maybe you see them only for a few minutes, maybe on the train platform, then they move on - and you may even hear a reference to this Mr. Scott back in Philadelphia who has just invented toilet paper. Those are little details that another show might gloss over, but since our show is about inventions in a way, they're very keen on touching on things like that."

Tom Berenger stars as a middle-aged frontier lawman who witnesses the dawn of modern police investigation in "Peacemakers," a quirky new series premiering Wednesday on USA Network.

USA has ordered eight hourlong episodes in addition to the 90-minute premiere. That production schedule will keep Berenger and his colleagues working without a break until Labor Day and, if USA exercises its option for more episodes, the cast will keep working into October.

"If I make it till then, I may have to have myself committed," Berenger laughs. "I'm going 18 hours a day, even with going to bed just as soon as I get home."

"I know one thing, I'm going to hide from all these people I've been working with. They're great folks, but I mean, we're kind of off away from everything up here, so if you have a day off and just want to throw on a pair of shorts and go into town and relax, you always bump into the cast and crew: 'Oh, man, not you again!' So I think we'll all be ready to take a break from one another."

Vidal maintains wit and wisdom in PBS documentary

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

Gore Vidal has the reputation of being irreverent, blunt, provocative and occasionally outright rude. This stands at odds with the man in person, who is courteous and courtly, apologizing for not rising to shake hands because of a bad knee.

He is the subject of an "American Masters" installment airing Wednesday, July 30, on PBS (check local listings), and for all his contrariness, Vidal is a Southern gentleman of Anglo-Irish stock (he says he kept a house in West Cork, Ireland, for years), a fact residing deep in his bones - and genes.

The importance of those genes is apparent when he tries to describe his familial ties to Al Gore (with a bit of political commentary thrown in). "I was getting very tired of being reminded of this relationship," he says. "I won't, anymore, unless he runs for president, again. I think he will. I don't think he thinks so now, but it may come to that. It's such a small gene pool. These were the white Protestants, who went south, and there were only about 20 or 30 families, and we all intermarried."

"When asked what relation I was to Albert, I would always come up with something different that I couldn't remember. It's not a matter of any great urgency to me. A woman who has studied our families said, 'You are ninth cousins.' I said, 'That seems pretty far apart to even be talking about.'"

The history of Vidal's family is interwoven with the United States' history - his grandfather was Sen. Thomas P. Gore - and therefore, into the series of historical novels he has written, from "Burr" (1973) to "The Golden Age" (2000).

"It's the history of the United States from the Revolution to the millennium," Vidal says, "based vaguely on my own family, and a lot of other people's, too, and real historical people."

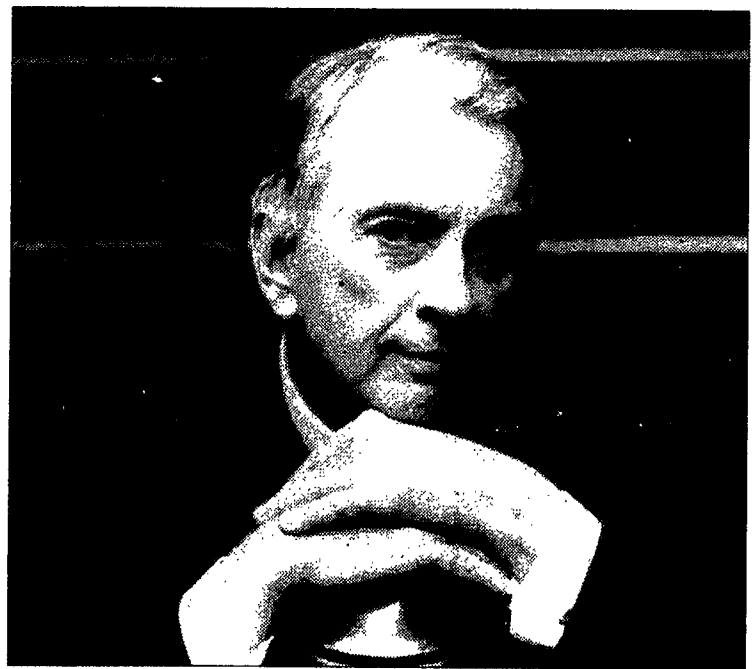

Written and directed by Deborah Dickerson and produced by Matt Kapp, the 90-minute "American Masters: The Education of Gore Vidal" traces Vidal's careers as a writer and a social critic, through clips, interviews and readings from celebrities such as Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, Susan Sarandon, Tim Robbins, Eli Wallach and Anne Jackson.

After employment in Washington, D.C., and Hollywood, Vidal now lives in a cliffside villa in Italy with longtime companion Howard Austen. Asked about the public policy of the native land he left behind, Vidal says, "There's much that one could propose that would make things better, but if you're on a consumer course ... with more money going to the Pentagon than to education, then I don't see how one could be very optimistic."

Now in his late 70s, Vidal still writes, most recently "Dreaming War: Blood for Oil and the Cheney-Bush Junta," an examination of U.S. policy in the Middle East in the wake of Sept. 11, 2001. But, he doesn't see another historical tome in his future, owing, he says, to the ravages of age.

"I do my own research, and it's like breaking rocks. Your short-term memory begins to fade. It isn't just, 'Where did I leave my glasses?' although that takes up about 20 hours a day, leaving you four hours for everything else."

"But, it means research takes about four times as long. So, I realized I could never do one of those great volumes, those 'Lincoln'-like books, again."

Novelist and social commentator Gore Vidal's life, career and politics-savvy opinions are the subjects discussed in "The Education of Gore Vidal," an "American Masters" episode premiering Wednesday on PBS (check local listings).

New Hall inductees traveled different paths to achieve fame

By George Dickie
© Zap2it

They both made their names stinging the ball and anchoring their teams, but Gary Carter and Eddie Murray couldn't be any more dissimilar in personality.

Carter, the slugging catcher who hit 324 home runs and guided the pitching staffs of four teams during a 19-year career that included three Gold Gloves and a world championship with the New York Mets in 1986, was as outgoing and gregarious a player as they come. He readily provided the media with quips and quotes, and earned the nickname "The Kid" for his unbridled enthusiasm for the game.

Murray, on the other hand, was the first baseman for five teams whose reserved and quiet demeanor was mistaken for arrogance by the media, despite the fact that he was well-liked and respected by teammates. To fans and teammates, the only thing that mattered was his performance on the field, which included 504 career home runs among 3,255 hits and a world championship with the 1983 Baltimore Orioles.

Carter and Murray will become the newest members of the Baseball Hall of Fame when they are inducted on Sunday, July 27. ESPN Classic carries the ceremony live from Cooperstown, N.Y.

Rece Davis, who will host the telecast with Tim Kurkjian, points out that along with stellar play, the Hall's two newest members share one other characteristic. "(They are) leaders in their own way," he says. "It's the personification of how leadership can vary, and how ballplayers immediately recognize, regardless of your personality, whether you'll be a leader or not."

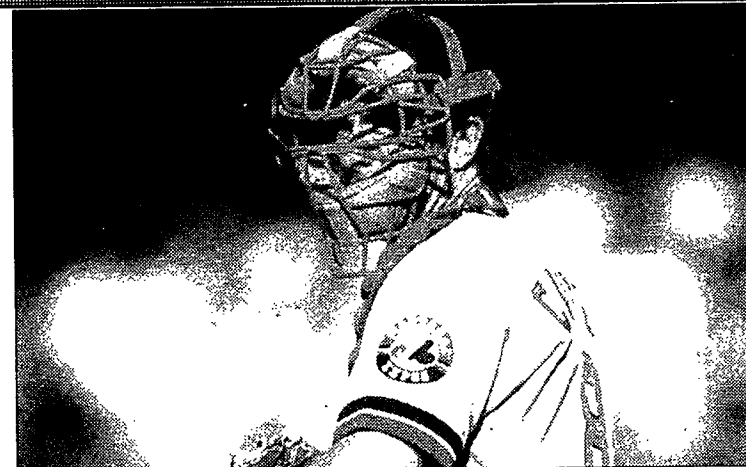

Davis thinks Murray's quiet nature may have hurt him in terms of fan recognition. "Eddie Murray was the silent slugger," Davis says. "I think because he didn't talk much, I don't think people realized what he accomplished. They know he was a great hitter - 3,000 hits, 500 home runs, switch hitter, the Gold Gloves, the runs at the MVP - all those things. The numbers are overwhelming. Hard-core fans certainly know what a great player he was. But I think maybe the average fan just sort of thinks, 'Oh, yeah, Eddie Murray, he was a good player.' Eddie Murray was a great player. And I think that maybe this upcoming Hall of Fame weekend, hopefully, will be an opportunity for people who might not have appreciated just how great he was to have an opportunity to get to know a little bit more about him."

Carter, by contrast, had no such problems. "I think everybody knows Gary," Davis says, "and to know Gary is to like him. ... And he's just as fun-loving and friendly as you would imagine."

And he, too, was just a terrific player. He followed Johnny Bench and took up the mantle as the next great catcher of his era, I think. I mean, there were other good catchers in Gary's era, for sure. But I think he was the best. He was the great one following Johnny Bench."

Hall of Fame induction speeches usually make for memorable and emotional moments, as honorees look back over their careers with fondness and pride. This year, that will be especially so, as both men undoubtedly will recall the recent losses they have experienced in their personal lives. Murray lost his sister in January to kidney disease at age 38, just five days before he was elected to the Hall, while Carter's 84-year-old father passed away less than three weeks after his son's election.

This year's Hall of Fame weekend also stands to renew the debate over cap selection. Carter's visage will be depicted on his plaque, wearing the cap of the Montreal Expos (for whom he played from 1974 to 1984, and in 1992), despite his wish to be inducted as a New York Met (1985-89). Other players have publicly expressed displeasure over having the choice taken out of their hands, including New York Yankees pitcher Roger Clemens, who recently stated his intention to skip the induction if his choice of a Yankees cap is not honored.

"New York Yankees at Boston Red Sox" Sunday, July 27 (ESPN, 8 p.m. ET): Like the humidity that hovers in the dog days of summer, the Red Sox and Yankees are once again stationed at the top of the AL East. Each season since 1998, the Bronx Bombers have finished first, with their bitter rivals a slot below, wondering what it takes to slay the New York dragon. Tonight, Boston will try to tame the All-Star bats of Hideki Matsui and Alfonso Soriano in the close of a three-game set at Fenway Park.

"Battle at the Bridges" Monday, July 28 (ABC, 8 p.m. ET): Tiger Woods and Sergio Garcia renew their prime-time rivalry, joined by first-timers Ernie Els and Phil Mickelson, in the fifth installment of this live, nighttime golf event. The one round, match-play set-up pairs Woods and Els, the world's top two players, against Garcia and Mickelson on the par-71 Bridges at Rancho Santa Fe course in California. A year ago, Woods and Jack Nicklaus beat Garcia and Lee Trevino, 3 and 2.

"NFL Preseason Football" Saturday, Aug. 2 (ESPN2, 5 a.m. ET): The NFL's 66-game preseason schedule kicks off with live coverage of the American Bowl from Tokyo featuring the world champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers vs. the New York Jets. The Bucs' attention in camp has been focused on improving a subpar running game, while the Jets' top draft pick, Dewayne Robertson, was imported to stuff opposing backs. Robertson has been compared, prematurely, of course, to Bucs' All-Pro tackle Warren Sapp.

Movie: The Day the Earth Stood Still

One of the most intelligent science-fiction movies made, director Robert Wise's 1951 classic doubles as a cautionary tale about nuclear war. Michael Rennie is superb as a human-looking alien who lands in Washington, D.C. with his traveling companion: a metallic robot that can disintegrate weapons with its laser "eyesight." Patricia Neal and Billy Gray ("Father Knows Best") play earthlings who befriend the visitors.

TV Trivia

Carl Reiner ("The Bronx Boys") and wife Estelle, married for almost 60 years, are the parents of directors Rob and Lucas, and Melinda, a surgeon.

Gladys Knight ("American Juniors") got her show business start more than 50 years ago when she won "The Original Amateur Hour."

Diana Rigg ("The Mrs. Bradley Mysteries") once received such a scathing review that she began collecting bad reviews in a book.

Bruce Lee ("Bruce Lee: The Lost Interview"), deemed the greatest martial artist of the century, also was Hong Kong's cha-cha champion.

Florence Henderson ("Intimate Portrait") flew to New York every weekend to be with her family during "The Brady Bunch" run.

Soap Synopsis

By Toby Goldstein
© Tribune Media Services

All My Children

A disguised Aidan, Tad and Boyd jumped Michael and locked him in a Dumpster so he couldn't spoil Jack and Erica's wedding. Meanwhile, Greenlee gave Jack the letter Mary had left for her in which she revealed that Jack is Greenlee's father. Bianca lost control of herself in a bar when a man touched her and grabbed a pool cue to protect herself. Maggie, Simone, Greenlee and Mia all were smitten by Pablo, whom they described as their "sexiest man," but didn't realize they were talking about the same guy. Coming: Maggie forces the truth out of Bianca.

As the World Turns

Rick injected Bob with insulin and he fell back into a coma, while Rick talked his way out of Bob's apparent accusation. Later, blackmailed by Jeffrey, who had information about his past, Rick killed and buried him, then showed up, disheveled, for his wedding. Rosanna was stunned to find Paul in her apartment, which he had rented, as each ordered the other one to get out. Katie and Mike traced Simon to Australia and decided to search for him. Coming: Who is Sarah, really?

Bold and Beautiful

Brooke feared that with Macy and Deacon romantically involved, they were going to pursue custody of Hope and little Eric. Amber believed Deacon and Macy's assurance that they won't cause trouble for her, but Ridge hired a lawyer who took out a restraining order to keep Macy away from the children. Deacon refused to let Macy stop seeing his kids and proposed to her, admitting that he may be rushing things because of the restraining order, but he does want to marry her. Stephanie offered her help to Nick in his pursuit of Brooke, but an unconcerned Nick declined. Coming: It's all out war between Brooke and Macy.

Days of Our Lives

Larry survived the car crash long enough to curse Hope before he died. Relieved that Larry is dead, Nicole panicked when Victor asked her why she seemed to be warning him before Larry died. Nicole was later furious when Victor told Brady how she was forced to star in porn films. Lucas heard Sami cry out in her sleep and took her to the hospital, where Sami saw Lucas and called his name, but too weakly for him to hear it. Coming: Sami confronts Cassie and Rex.

General Hospital

Emily was stunned to overhear Nikolas tell Lydia that he's with her only because he can't have Emily. Nikolas professed his love to Emily and she returned it, but sent him back to Lydia while she assured Zander that she wants to be with him. Sonny promised to bring Carly home safely as he was forced to let Alcazar ship drugs through his territory. Determined to do away with Ric, Sonny brought him to the house on Martha's Vineyard. Ned threatened to expose Scott's misdeeds if he pursues a case against Alexis, who confessed to killing Luis in self-defense. Coming: Ric regrets his past actions.

Guiding Light

Jeffrey prevented Cassie from being pulled to her death by Mitch, who slipped off the rooftop with her in his grip. Mitch survived the fall and was taken away by Justice Department agents, backed by Jeffrey, who is secretly one of them. After Ben saw Shayne and Marina embracing, he took Marina to his car, where she lay, unconscious. Coming: Concern mounts for Marina's well-being.

One Life to Live

Troy got Lindsay committed to the insane asylum, then grabbed Jen and locked her in Lindsay's cell, where they were menaced by a serial killer. Gabrielle tried getting Troy to incriminate himself in Lindsay's disappearance and Claire's death - she was found strangled - but Troy discovered her hidden wire. Walker placed an anonymous call to Kelly warning her about Kevin's pursuit of Blair. Antonio began to suspect that Jessica is protecting Walker in the matter of Mitch's death. Coming: Troy's grip on reality weakens.

Passions

Kay underwent an emergency C-section and gave birth to a baby girl, who was rushed into intensive care. Syd, a beautiful young singer, who immediately showed interest in him, put Chad in charge of producing an album. Fox schemed how he could use Syd as a means of getting Whitney for himself. Ethan and Theresa barely missed seeing each other on the plane to Los Angeles. Beth had a narrow escape when Luis spotted her without the tummy bulge, and had to convince him he only imagined it. Coming: Luis hears Sheridan's voice.

Port Charles

When Caleb prepared to go after Imani with evil intent, Jamal admitted that he has the ring. But when Jamal went to get the ring it was gone, ending up in Jack's hands. Jack wished that Reese would find someone else, prompting her to leave, where she ran into Ricky. Casey disappeared after Ricky said that he wants her completely, or not at all. Chris pretended to be Elizabeth's designer friend George and went to the gym opening, fooling everyone except Elizabeth. Coming: Kevin and Lucy fulfill a wish.

Young and Restless

Lily planned to attend a concert with Kevin, but ignored her ringing cell phone after accepting a beer from him at his apartment. Victor finally revealed to Michael that he's been hired to bribe department chains into keeping Jabot products off the shelves, making room for Safra. Jack was angered that Phyllis didn't tell him about Victor hiring Michael, and accepted an invite from Diane. Fuming when she saw Jack and Diane having drinks together, a tipsy Phyllis went to Damon's apartment, and kissed him before leaving. J.T. and Colleen pledged their mutual love and were reunited. Brittany hid her earnings from Raul. Coming: Lily's friends become concerned about her behavior.

'Port Charles' meets the network guillotine

By Candace Havens
© Zap2it

This time the rumors are true. The final episode of "Port Charles" airs Oct. 3.

ABC Daytime President Brian Frons says the cancellation is for financial reasons. While he was happy with the creative direction the show took over the past year, it became too cost prohibitive to do a half-hour series on ABC. Frons says many of the "PC" actors will have a chance to find positions on other ABC daytime shows.

In other news: Sydney Penny (ex-Julia Santos) returns to daytime Aug. 11, but it won't be on "All My Children." She begins a new role as a childhood friend of Ridge Forrester (Ronn Moss) on CBS' "The Bold and the Beautiful." Penny is under contract, so she will be involved with the Forrester gang for some time.

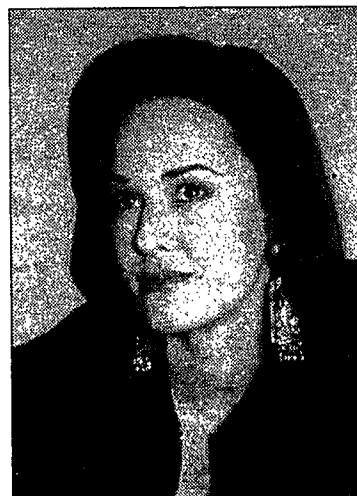

Penny had been approached by "AMC" about returning, but she did not want to relocate to the East Coast. Her former "AMC" co-star Keith Hamilton Cobb (ex-Noah Keefer) recently signed with "The Young and the Restless" to play Damon Porter.

The fall prime-time TV schedule will sport a show written by a former soap queen. Joanna Johnson, who played Caroline Forrester on "B&B," wrote the comedy pilot for ABC's "Hope & Faith." The show stars two other soap divas: Kelly Ripa (ex-Hayley Santos, "AMC") and Faith Ford (ex-Julia Shearer, "Another World"). The sitcom will air Fridays.

Dear Candace: What in the world is wrong with the writers on "Days of Our Lives"? I watched (it) for years, but have had it. They always break up the best couples. It seems like every couple on that show has trouble staying together. One happy couple, that's all we ask. -D. Ebyer in Florida.

Dear Reader: Soap opera couples are never allowed to be happy for long. Many times, it's because one of the actors is moving on to something new. The turmoil on "Days" is about to increase tenfold with the return of James Reilly as the head writer. No one is better at mixing it up and creating seemingly hopeless situations for favorite daytime characters.

7th Heaven

Bo Derek guest stars as Kevin and Ben's (George Stults, Geoff Stults) mother in "I Love Lucy." Kevin wants her to be present on St. Valentine's Day when he asks Lucy (Beverly Mitchell) to marry him. When Roxanne (Rachel Blanchard) finds out Chandler (Jeremy London) plans to propose to her around the same time, she asks him to hold off so Lucy won't become angry with her again.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS
American Experience

The true story of a celebrated racehorse inspired a best seller by Laura Hillenbrand and a new movie starring Tobey Maguire. This program's episode "Seabiscuit" also traces the animal's unlikely success, given his less-thanphysique and not-so-graceful movements. Owner Charles Howard and trainer

Tiger Woods

Tom Smith dedicated themselves to making Seabiscuit a winner, and their efforts paid off big.

9 p.m. on 4-CBS
CSI: Miami

The team's probe of a priest's murder at his church leads to an unexpected suspect in "Ashes to Ashes." Megan, Calleigh and Speedle (Kim Delaney, Emily Procter, Rory Cochrane) link evidence found on a drinking glass to an altar boy. Horatio and Delko (David Caruso, Adam Rodriguez) are curious about a diamond ring found in the remains of a pregnant woman who met a fiery fate.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Who Wants to Marry My Dad?

Four women remain to compete for the affection of single father Don Mueller in this new episode of the "Meet My Folks" spinoff. His children subject the potential spouses to a test of vanity, which ultimately reveals a lot about the candidates' altruism — or their self-involvement. Comic magicians Penn & Teller figure into the proceedings, resulting in the dismissal of one woman by hour's end.

Tuesday Best Bets

12:50 p.m. and TMC

Movie: Ghost World

Daniel Clowes adapted his acclaimed graphic novel for "Crumb" director Terry Zwigoff's hilarious and poignant 2001 study in alienation. It focuses on a summer in the lives of quirky teens Enid and Rebecca (Thora Birch, Scarlet Johansson), whose relationship undergoes a strain after a lonely vintage-record collector (Steve Buscemi) enters their lives. Brad Renfro ("The Client") co-stars.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

8 Simple Rules for Dating My Teenage Daughter

Familiar TV faces Jason Priestley ("Beverly Hills, 90210") and Robert Guillaume ("Benson") guest star in "Every Picture Tells a Story." Paul's (John Ritter) work on a book about a race-car driver (Priestley) makes him a target for constant sarcasm from the racer's butler (Guillaume). A misunderstanding makes Paul appear to be a thief when he was merely trying to return a photo to the driver.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Gilmore Girls

Rory and Paris (Alexis Bledel, Liza Weil) become rivals to deliver the Chilton bicentennial speech as they await word from the colleges to which they've applied in "The Big One." Lorelai (Lauren Graham) has a surprising reunion with her ex-fiance, Max (Scott Cohen), which leaves her second-guessing their breakup. Others wonder about Sookie's (Melissa McCarthy) suddenly odd behavior.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS

Live From Lincoln Center

An opening-night telecast of the Mostly Mozart Festival is an annual tradition for this recurring series, and it stays intact with the "Mostly Mozart Festival Night Gala 2003" from Avery Fisher Hall in New York. This year's program is notable for introducing Louis Langree as the new music director, with pianist Lang Lang and mezzo-soprano Stephanie Blythe also making their Mostly Mozart debuts. Beverly Sills is the host.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

According to Jim

Jim (Jim Belushi) gets into a bidding war on an Internet auction site when he goes after a piece of Chicago Bears memorabilia in "The Helmet." He doesn't know his chief rival is Cheryl (Courtney Thorne-Smith), who isn't happy when she realizes he's bidding with the funds he refused to spend on the new dryer she wanted.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Smallville

Smallville literally is in the eye of a storm in "Tempest." A tornado is heading toward the town, just as Clark (Tom Welling) repairs the spaceship that brought him to Earth.

8 p.m. and BRAV

Boy Meets Boy

The dating-show genre gets a twist with the premiere of an unscripted series that matches up same-sex partners. Not unlike "The Bachelor" and "Joe Millionaire," this one finds a man in the position of selecting a mate from a field of contenders — only in this case, those vying to be chosen also are men. But there's a surprise that the chooser won't know about until later: Some of the guys are straight.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC

NYPD Blue

Clark (Mark-Paul Gosselaar) is hit with yet another crisis in "Nude Awakening." He discovers his father (guest star Joe Spano) dead in what looks like a suicide, then seeks absolute confirmation that it wasn't murder. A stripper seeks professional help to get her husband out of her life — permanently.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

After cocaine is found in the baby food of an infant who overdosed, Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Christopher Meloni) investigate in "Risk." They find a drug operation using baby formula to transport its wares, but Internal Affairs officers interfere in the case.

9 p.m. on 19-PBS

P.O.V.

Juan Carlos Zaldivar initially supported the Cuban Revolution, then became what he had scorned: a "Marielito" who made the boat trip from his native country to the United States. The filmmaker recalls his 1980 trek with his family to South Florida in the new documentary "90 Miles," which incorporates footage of his return to Cuba in the late '90s, along with home movies, personal photos and news clips.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Race to the Altar

In the premiere of this unscripted series, eight couples compete for a dream wedding by taking part in mental and physical challenges. In the tradition of many other programs in the reality genre, one of the couples will be eliminated at the end of each episode. Sportscaster and model Lisa Dergan is the host; event planner Colin Cowie discusses the wedding he'll design for the winning duo.

7 p.m. on 19-PBS

Watergate Plus 30: Shadow of History

Even three decades later, the break-in at a hotel in Washington, D.C., remains one of the most scandalous and influential events in United States political history. This new special considers the lessons learned and their impact on present-day democracy, with many of the people involved offering relevant comments. They include key player John Dean, investigator Sam Dash and journalist Bob Woodward.

7 p.m. on AMC

Movie: Earthquake

Los Angeles is hit by "the big one" in this 1974 disaster epic, which earned an Oscar for its special effects. Charlton Heston heads the requisite all-star cast as an architect who debates leaving his shrewish wife (Ava Gardner), who is his boss's daughter, as trucks loaded with livestock start falling off freeways. Genevieve Bujold, Richard Roundtree and an unbilled Walter Matthau co-star.

7 p.m. on BRAV

Movie: The Hudsucker Proxy

Filmmakers Joel and Ethan Coen ("Fargo") worked in a kinder, gentler mode in this underappreciated 1994 comedy about a 1950s bumpkin who comes to the big city and becomes an unwitting pawn in a plan to destroy a corporation. The set designs are breathtaking. The fun cast is headed by Tim Robbins. Paul Newman and Jennifer Jason Leigh.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

The Family Premiere Special

The unscripted series "The Family" returns with an hourlong refresher condensing the episodes that aired earlier this year. George Hamilton is the host of the show, which transplants members of a Northeast family into a mansion in Palm Beach, Fla. They compete for lavish rewards and $1 million, not knowing that the household servants determine who will be eliminated.

Smash

scoring

several

hits off her debut album, Michelle Branch already has the first ("Are You Happy Now?") from her latest CD, "Hotel Paper." She performs that and other tunes in a new episode of this music series, which also features Simple Plan, Interpol and Chingy. The hour is hosted by Alyson Hannigan ("Buffy the Vampire Slayer"), whose "American Pie" movie sequel "American Wedding" is about to open.

Moments

in Time

Battle

waged by ancient Roman

warriors are detailed in the new

episode "Letters From the Roman Front," which uses visual effects and dramatic re-creations to place series host James Woods amid the "soldiers." Their thoughts are conveyed in letters that would end up lost before they could reach relatives and friends. The needs they had were similar to those of modern servicemen who seek "down" time and words from home.

8 p.m. and USA

Peacemakers

Elements of the Old West get a "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" twist in this new adventure-mystery series. In his first regular series role since his long-ago stint on daytime's "One Life to Live," Tom Berenger plays a late-19th-century federal marshal who integrates early forensic techniques into his investigations. Amy Carlson ("Third Watch") portrays the local undertaker. Peter O'Meara also stars.

Colin Cowie and host Lisa Dergan

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
National Geographic Channel: Bug Attack

If you don't particularly care for creepy, crawly things, this new special isn't for you. Otherwise, welcome to a who's-who and what's-what of the insect world, with Dr. Phil DeVries guiding a tour of related sites extending from Arizona to Venezuela. Much like "Crocodile Hunter" Steve Irwin, DeVries makes himself the guinea pig for the worst the bugs have to offer, including a scorpion's sting and a leech's bloodsucking.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
Movie: Mary and Rhoda

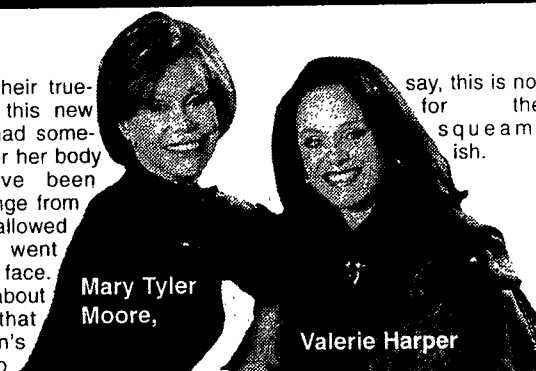

Mary Tyler Moore and Valerie Harper step back into the shoes of spunky Mary Richards and wisecracking Rhoda Morgenstern, who turned the world on with their friendship in the '70s. This 2000 TV movie finds a newly widowed Mary and a recently divorced Rhoda in New York, where they've both moved for a fresh start. They quickly pick up where they left off, discovering once again that there's nothing like a good friend.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
101 Things Removed From the Human Body

If you think "Survivor" contestants have coped with rough stuff, try the people who relate their true-life experiences in this new special. Each has had something on, or in, his or her body that shouldn't have been there. The items range from nails that a man swallowed to a board that went through a woman's face. And let's not forget about the boat anchor that lodged in a man's skull. Needless to say, this is not for the squeamish.

Mary Tyler Moore,

Valerie Harper

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on ESPN

NFL Preseason Football

The NFL's 66-game preseason schedule kicks off with same-day coverage of the American Bowl from Tokyo featuring the world champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers vs. the New York Jets. The Bucs' attention in camp has been focused on improving a sub-par running game, while the Jets' top draft pick, Dewayne Robertson, was imported to stuff opposing backs. Robertson has been compared — prematurely, of course — to Bucs' All-Pro tackle Warren Sapp.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Men in Black II

Will Smith and Tommy Lee Jones take on "the scum of the universe" again in this fun, relatively short 2002 sequel to the 1997 fantasy-comedy hit. Still employed by the government, Agent J (Smith) lures Agent K (Jones) back to active duty to battle an alluring alien (Lara Flynn Boyle, "The Practice") who has Earth's destruction in mind. Rip Torn also returns. Rosario

Dawson and Tony Shalhoub ("Monk") co-star.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Dragnet

Though a disturbed young man (guest star Kris Lemche) claims to have killed a female classmate in a satanic ritual, Friday and Smith (Ed O'Neill, Ethan Embry) try to keep open minds in "Sticks and Stones." They check out the self-proclaimed suspect, but they also investigate some of the victim's other peers.

9 p.m. on TNT

Movie: Field of Dreams

This fantasy, based on W.P. Kinsella's book "Shoeless Joe," stars Kevin Costner as an Iowa farmer whose love of baseball leads him to build a diamond in a cornfield. The ghost of Shoeless Joe Jackson arrives, followed by other players, in this 1989 film.

Movie: Foul Play

Goldie Hawn and Chevy Chase make an appealing team in writer-director Colin Higgins' 1978 suspense-comedy about an attempt to assassinate the Pope. A San Francisco librarian (Hawn) gets enmeshed in the scheme, then struggles to convince a police detective (Chase) that she is being threatened by a tall albino and a killer known as "The Dwarf."

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"DAREDEVIL": Another Marvel Comics character gets lavish, live-action treatment in this well-staged fantasy adventure, which has a properly lavish two-disc DVD edition. Ben Affleck stars as blind attorney Matt Murdock, who perfects his other sense to the point of moonlighting as a costumed hero. He has plenty of opponents, from a vengeful woman named Elektra (Jennifer Garner, "Alias") to a crime kingpin (Michael Clarke Duncan) and his savage henchman, Bullseye (Colin Farrell). Jon Favreau and Joe Pantoliano co-star. DVD extras: theatrical trailers; audio commentary by writer-director Mark Steven Johnson and producer Gary Foster; multiple angles on certain scenes; "making-of" documentaries; music videos; Jennifer Garner screen test. *** (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"SOLARIS": After working together on "Out of Sight" and "Ocean's Eleven," George Clooney and director Steven Soderbergh reteamed on this moody, underrated Americanization of a renowned Russian drama. The handsome production has science-fiction trappings, but it's mainly a cerebral study of a psychologist (Clooney) who has a startling reunion with his late wife (Natascha McElhone) aboard an orbiting, problem-plagued space station. Soderbergh also wrote the screenplay. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; audio commentary by Soderbergh and producer James Cameron; "making-of" documentaries; screen-play stills. *** (PG-13: AS, P)

"THE QUIET AMERICAN": Michael Caine's typical acting mastery earned him another Oscar nomination for director Phillip Noyce's ("Rabbit-Proof Fence") fine drama, based on Graham Greene's novel about a romantic triangle. Caine plays a British journalist who rails against the U.S. authority present in 1950s Southeast Asia. That enhances his sense of rivalry with a young American (Brendan Fraser) for the love of a Vietnamese woman (Do Thi Hai Yen). DVD extras: audio commentary by Noyce; "making-of" documentary; behind-the-scenes footage. *** (R: AS, P, V)

PIGLET'S BIG MOVIE: One of Winnie the Pooh's pals feels rejected in this animated Disney charmer. When Piglet (voice of John Fiedler, "The Odd Couple") is left out of a plan to collect honey because of his size, he decides to go into the Hundred Acre Wood alone, leaving remorseful friends such as Pooh and Tigger (both voiced by Jim Cummings) to find him and bring him back. They consult Piglet's Book of Memories to locate him. DVD extras: "Piglet's Book of Memories" and "The World According to Piglet" featurettes; sing-along feature; DVD-ROM-printable coloring book. *** (G)

"XX/XY": A multifaceted love affair fuels writer-director Austin Chick's drama, in which solid work by the three central stars helps a script with a déjà-vu feel. Mark Ruffalo ("You Can Count on Me") plays a man desired by two female friends (Kathleen Robertson, "Beverly Hills, 90210," and Maya Stange). Their intense involvements with one another ultimately derail all of the relationships, and the same problems - and same attractions - remain when the trio reunites several years later. ** (R: AS, N, P)

"PROFILER: SEASON ONE": The literally and figuratively dark drama series, first seen on NBC and now repeating on Court TV, stars Ally Walker as forensic psychologist Samantha "Sam" Waters. Devastated by the murder of her husband by a serial killer, she returns to law enforcement to delve into the minds of more felons. Robert Davi ("Licence to Kill"), Roma Maffia ("Disclosure") and Julian McMahon play other members of the FBI's Violent Crimes Task Force. DVD extras: audio commentary by Walker and Davi on the pilot episode; cast biographies. ** (Not rated: AS, P, V)

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"AGENT CODY BANKS" (Aug. 5): Frankie Muniz ("Malcolm in the Middle") plays a teenage CIA operative trying to protect a scientist's daughter (Hilary Duff, "Lizzie McGuire"). (PG: P, V)

"BRINGING DOWN THE HOUSE" (Aug. 5): A lonely lawyer's (Steve Martin) Internet correspondence with an unseen pen pal (Queen Latifah) draws her to his doorstep. (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"CRADLE 2 THE GRAVE" (Aug. 12): The abduction of his daughter forces a professional thief (DMX) to team with a foreign intelligence agent (Jet Li) to get the ransom. (R: AS, P, V)

"HEAD OF STATE" (Aug. 12): The sudden death of a presidential candidate thrusts an unlikely successor (Chris Rock) into the contest for the White House. (PG-13: AS, P)

Far from home and youth, these 'Bronx Boys' remain friends

Cinemax's "The Bronx Boys," premiering Tuesday, July 29, is a terrific home movie. Though called a documentary, it's perhaps best described as a lovely valentine to a time and place that is no longer.

A group of men who attended kindergarten in 1936 at Public School 80 in the Bronx, N.Y., reminisce about their good times. They remember things like the first day of kindergarten, when one was so scared he threw up. When folks know one another that well, it is impossible to adopt pretenses.

Last July, the men, aka the Bronx Boys, held a reunion. Officially, this documentary is a chronicle of that weekend reunion. Yet it is far more; it is a testimonial to lifelong friendships.

"The thing that is unusual about these guys is that they kept the friendships," says host Carl Reiner, a fellow Bronx native. Though he did not attend P.S. 80, and is a decade older than these men, Reiner is a client of talent manager George Shapiro, who organized the reunion.

"I can't talk about that they were all successful or did well in their marriages, but that they kept in contact with each other is a tribute to George," Reiner says.

Indeed it is Shapiro who rallies the group. Like many people who grew up in the Bronx, the men left the old neighborhood long ago. And so the reunion is held at a school in the most unlikely setting of Westwood, a section of Los Angeles, where palm trees and new cars - not elevated subway tracks and old apartment buildings - rim the area.

"P.S. 80 is all run-down and in the Bronx, and we live here," Shapiro explains. Besides, he adds, it was a weekendlong reunion and he and business partner, Howard West, invited everyone to their homes.

Incidentally, Shapiro notes in the film that West is the "interloper" because he joined them in third grade. Shapiro immediately befriended him, and the two went through school together and took jobs as lifeguards in the Poconos. There, Shapiro decided they should be agents. He observed agents who were guests at the hotel where they worked and liked their panache. Shapiro and West worked at the William Morris Agency before starting their own personal management firm, Shapiro/West and Associates, whose clients have included Jerry Seinfeld, Robert Wuhl, Jim Nabors and Dom DeLuise.

The reunion came about when one of the guys, Elliott Liss, visited West and Shapiro about 10 years ago. Joel Coler already lived in California, and they all had dinner together. Five years passed, and more of them got together. Shapiro recalls planning for a bigger reunion once they hit 70.

This documentary did not start out as broadcast material. Rather, Shapiro explains, "I did it strictly for the families of the guys, and their kids and grandkids - to give them insight into who they are and where they came from. It's a home movie."

They talk about classrooms where teachers grabbed students by the tie to get their attention. Never mind that public school teachers once laid hands on children - that boys once wore ties to school is in itself a history lesson. They talk lovingly about games played on the cracked streets of the Bronx.

For the uninitiated, stickball is like baseball. Instead of a grass-and-dirt field, this game is played on city streets that often had cobblestones under the trolley tracks. Instead of bats, players use a stick. Manhole covers and sewer drains serve as bases.

Lenny Lauren explains the best way to get the perfect stick is to swipe your mom's broom, discard those useless straw bristles by twisting off the bottom against a sewer drain, and viola! - a stick for stickball is created.

The decades that have passed mean little as the men reminisce. They delight in one another's company and in learning long-held secrets. It is difficult to not smile along with them as they confess their once-secret longing for the lovely kindergarten teacher, Miss Patton. Shapiro still cracks up himself and the others recalling how as a 5-year-old he kept patting her bottom, until his mother was called in to school. They also recall other crushes, which were not as precocious, given that these lost loves happened when the boys were 13 and 14.

"They are all admitting to who the sexy little girl was, and all those precious memories," Reiner says. As to why that neighborhood produced so many successes, Reiner offers, "When they were brought up, education was at a premium, and people did take school very seriously," he says. "We didn't have a lot of truants, and that was considered a good area of The Bronx."

The Bronx, once considered the promised land for immigrants who had made it out of the Lower East Side, fell to arson, gangs and drugs in the 1970s, eventually becoming a photo opportunity for presidential hopefuls vowing to fight poverty. But that was not the Bronx these men loved. Then, New York's only mainland borough boasted schools good enough to turn out two of America's most influential fashion designers, Calvin Klein and Ralph Lauren, both P.S. 80 grads.

The documentary "The Bronx Boys," premiering Tuesday on Cinemax, tells of the enduring relationships of friends (pictured with host Carl Reiner, center front) from the 1930s.
